ELECTION LEAVES CLOSE BALANCE IN U.S. CONGRESS

LARGE VOTE CAST IN NORTH VANCOUVER TO-DAY

Fair Weather Makes Polls Busy In B.C. Contest

Many Take Advantage of Wednesday Half-holiday to Cast Ballots in By-election for North Vancouver Seat in Legislature.

Canadian Press
North Vancouver, Nov. 5.—Ideal weather conditions to-day were bringing out a large vote in the three-cornered Legislature by-election contest to-day to fill the North Vancouver vacancy caused by the resignation of Hon. Ian MacKenzie to enter the Federal arena.

LEWIS GIVEN NOBEL PRIZE IN LITERATURE

U.S. Writer, Author of "Main Street," Recognized by Stockholm Committee

Stockholm, Nov. 5.—Sinclair Lewis, noted United States author, has been voted the Nobel Prize in Literature for 1930.

NEW TAXATION FACES PEOPLE OF AUSTRALIA

Treasurer Tells Parliament Budget Cannot Be Balanced This Year

Canberra, Australia, Nov. 5.—Australia finds it impossible to balance her budget within the remaining eight months of the fiscal year. Hon. J. A. Lyons, Acting Treasurer, announced in the House of Representatives to-day.

New York, Nov. 5.—Sinclair Lewis, author of "Main Street" and other United States novels, said he would accept the Nobel Prize for Literature award of which to him was announced at Stockholm.

Mr. Lewis was informed of the award by the Associated Press at the home of the columnist, Franklin P. Adams, in Westport, Conn.

The author, who in 1926 refused to accept a $10,000 Pulitzer Prize award for the best novel presenting "the whole atmosphere of American life and the highest standard of American manners and manhood," for his book "Arrowsmith," expressed gratification at the award to-day.

Mr. Lewis declined the Pulitzer award on the ground that such prizes, like titles, "are dangerous."

Among the best known books written by Mr. Lewis are "Main Street," published in 1920, which brought him into international notice, "Babbalanza," 1922; "Arrowsmith," 1925; and "Elmer Gantry," 1927. He was born in Minnesota in 1895.

TWO ARMISTICE SERVICES ARE ARRANGED HERE

Veterans to Parade to Cathedral on Sunday; Cenotaph Service Tuesday

Fitting ceremonies will mark the twentieth anniversary of Armistice when Victoria, in keeping with the rest of the Empire, will pay a tribute of respect to the memory of 1,000,000 British dead.

Two services have been arranged. The first will be held in Christ Church Cathedral next Sunday when veterans headed by the Coast Artillery band, will march to the cathedral from the assembly place on Blanshard Street.

The parade will assemble at 2.30 o'clock. In the event of rain, the parade will be held at the cathedral independently.

MALKIN SEEKS RE-ELECTION IN VANCOUVER

Vancouver, Nov. 5.—Mayor W. H. Malkin to-day announced he would be a candidate for re-election for the term of 1931-32.

Notification to this effect was given by the Mayor to a committee which waited on him yesterday, bearing a petition signed by more than 1,000 citizens asking him to serve the city as mayor for another two years.

In announcing his candidature, the Mayor stated he had hoped he could have retired from office at the close of his present term, but in view of the petition he had acceded to the request of citizens to seek another term in which to complete the work he had commenced.

KINGSFORD-SMITH HONORED

Canberra, Australia, Nov. 5.—The Defence Ministry to-day announced the title of Honorary Air Commodore had been conferred on Wing Commander Charles Kingsford-Smith, long distance aviator who recently flew from England to Australia in less than ten days.

German Flying Liner DO-X Reaches City of Amsterdam On Its Way to New York

Amsterdam, Nov. 5.—The great Dornier flying boat DO-X arrived at Amsterdam at 4.50 p.m. to-day (4.50 a.m. Victoria time), five hours and twenty-three minutes after the take-off from Lake Constance at Altenrhein, Switzerland.

The big plane completed the first leg of its projected flight to New York without mishap, flying through clear weather all the way. It followed the route via Rotterdam, passing en route over Mayence, Mannheim, Worms, Cologne and Wesel.

The plane had been scheduled to start shortly after 8 a.m. but the low temperature delayed preparations and necessitated a longer warming up, so that it was 11.27 a.m. (2.27 a.m. Victoria time) before the ship nosed into the wind and rose gracefully from the somewhat choppy surface of the lake.

140 MINERS ARE TRAPPED BY EXPLOSION

One Worker Known to Have Been Killed in Pit at Mill Field, Ohio

Men Who Escaped Say Others Undoubtedly Lost Lives in Blast Underground

Mill Field, Ohio, Nov. 5.—One miner was known to have been killed and between 140 and 150 others were entombed in the No. 6 mine of the Sunday Creek Coal Company here this afternoon by a terrific explosion which was followed by fire. The fate of the trapped men was undetermined, but miners who escaped said there undoubtedly had been some additional fatalities.

Three hundred men were in the mine when the explosion occurred. About half that number came out, many of them injured and suffering from the effects of gas.

Some of the trapped men were said to be seated behind the bar, a mile inside the mine.

WAS PIONEER MISSIONARY TO B.C. INDIANS

Rev. E. Nicholas, Resident of Province For Half Century, Died Yesterday

Edward Nicholas, for many years engaged in pioneer mission work among the Indians of British Columbia, passed away yesterday at the home of Rev. Thomas Keyworth, Sidney.

The late Mr. Nicholas was born in Cornwall, England, eighty-five years ago and had resided in this province for fifty years. With his wife, who predeceased him two years ago, he was engaged in the Indian mission work of this province for many years.

Mr. Nicholas was first stationed in the Meas River district, later moving to Bella Coola, where he remained for nine years. After thirteen years' work with the Indians in northern B.C., Mr. Nicholas and his wife were allowed a well-deserved furlough. On their return they were located at Cowichan, where for two years they had charge of a school and six neighboring villages. Later they went to River's Inlet and later to Nanaimo, and still later they were stationed at Cloosoo on Vancouver Island. In 1903 they came to Victoria and lived at Byron Street, Oak Bay.

Three months ago Mr. Nicholas removed to Sidney, and made his home with Rev. T. Keyworth.

Funeral service will be held on Friday afternoon, the cortege proceeding from the S. J. Curry and Son Funeral Home to the Metropolitan United Church, where service will be held at 2.30 o'clock. Interment will be in the family plot at Royal Oak Burial Park.

URGENT APPEAL MADE FOR FUND FOR ARMISTICE

Committee Working For Veterans and Red Cross Seeks Further Donations

Three Days Left in Which to Get $15,000; Ready Response Is Sought

With only three days left of the time originally decided upon for the campaign to collect $20,000 for the Armistice Period-Red Cross Fund, receipts are more than $15,000 below the objective. For three weeks a small band of workers has been exerting every effort to secure the support and co-operation of the public, but up to this time contributions total only $4,628.

More than 2,500 years ago Pericles spoke to the men of Athens assembled on a crowd which had gathered to-day on the Chowpatti Sands to observe the six-month anniversary of Mahatma Gandhi's imprisonment.

The poet, Harindranath Chattopadhyaya, was arrested for attempting to address the meeting, which had been banned by the police.

Gandhi was arrested May 5 in Jalapur and has been held ever since under a law for the protection of the state.

B.C. PLANTS TO TENDER ON NEW SURVEY SHIPS

Hon. Alfred Duranleau Says Coast Firms Will Have Opportunity to Bid on Work

Minister of Marine Plays Golf and Lunches with Premier Tolmie

Shipbuilding plants on the British Columbia coast will be given every opportunity to tender on the two hydrographic survey steamers which the Federal Government proposes to build, according to Hon. Alfred Duranleau, K.C., Minister of Marine, who is in the city to-day on his first official visit of inspection.

In this connection the policy of the former government is being adhered to, it being announced some time ago by the Mackenzie King administration that new vessels would be built to take care of the increasing demands of the hydrographic services on both coasts.

While here, Mr. Duranleau will be given an opportunity to inspect the shipbuilding facilities available for the construction of vessels of this particular type. He is interested in the new drydock, Skinner's Cove.

As one of the new hydrographic ships is to be designed for service on this coast, it is probable that the contract for that vessel will be placed with a British Columbia firm. The other vessel will be designed for Atlantic coast service, and may be built by an eastern Canadian concern.

While the policy of the lowest tender would have to be considered at all (Continued on Page 2)

Democrats Count On U.S. House Majority With Senate Equal

Great Gain in House of Representatives in Yesterday's Voting Cut Down Wide Republican Margin of Last House; G.O.P. Loses Thirty-four Seats, and Gains One.

WETS MAKE GAINS AT U.S. TEST AT POLLS

Three States Declare For Dry Law Repeal; Dry Majority in U.S. House Reduced

Wet and Dry Forces Divide About Equally in U.S. Senate Contests

Washington, Nov. 5.—Wets and drys divided about equally the United States Senate seats in yesterday's election where prohibition was an issue, while the anti-prohibitionists cut into the preponderantly dry majority in the House of Representatives.

The three states holding wet referenda—Illinois, Rhode Island and Massachusetts—went overwhelmingly for repeal.

The anti-prohibition forces made one of their biggest raids in Ohio, birthplace of the Anti-Saloon League, when Robert J. Bulkley, Cleveland Democrat and advocate of repeal of the 18th Amendment, won over Senator McCulloch, Republican prohibitionist.

In other senatorial contests where prohibition figured, the anti-prohibitionists cut into the preponderantly dry majority in the House of Representatives.

Special to The Times
Nanaimo, Nov. 5.—Alex Hamilton, steward of the Elks Club, was found guilty this morning on a charge of having liquor unlawfully for sale on October 25, following a raid by local police.
Hamilton was fined $300, and in default, three months hard labor, by Magistrate Bevoir-Potts. Sergeant Russell and Constable Tweedhope gave evidence and produced in court a quantity of liquor and liquor permits secured in the raid.
W. R. Moore appeared as crown prosecutor and T. P. Morton for the defence.
Other cases of the Canadian Legion, Eagles and Army and Navy Clubs are being proceeded with this afternoon. T. P. Morton intimated that the case would be appealed.

URGENT APPEAL MADE FOR FUND FOR ARMISTICE

repulchre of earth wherein their glory is enshrined, "remembrance that will live on the lips, that will blossom in the deeds of their countrymen the world over."
"These words are equally applicable to the men whose memory we honor at Armistice," declared a member of the campaign committee to-day. "And it is the deed that will blossom in their countrymen the world over, which we are looking for to-day."
"It is almost unbelievable that the plea for funds to provide for the assistance of needy and sick comrades and dependents of the fallen, and to enable the Red Cross to carry on its great peace-time effort for humanity, should receive so scant a response within twelve years of the time when our soldier citizens were dying and suffering to enable the world from Prussian domination."
"The sincerity of the tribute to fallen heroes is not made manifest by expressions of pride for the glorious graves and imperishable fame gained by the dead. To take pride in their achievements and sacrifice is a hollow mockery if the welfare of living comrades and dependents is neglected."

VICTORIA'S GREAT RECORD

"Victoria has a wartime record of which all citizens are justly proud, and we appeal for the same unstinted service to the men who are suffering for the war to-day."
"We need funds, to carry on our work, and duty to our unfortunate comrades compels us to continue the appeal until they are secured. For the honor of our city we plead with the public to delay no longer, but send contributions at once."
Cheques should be mailed to the honorary treasurer, R. P. Taylor, Canadian Red Cross office, 317 Belmont House, or donations may be left at campaign headquarters, 629 Fort Street.

TWO DRY GOVERNORS IN
In the gubernatorial races having wet-dry angles, Clifford Pinchot, former Pennsylvania Governor of Pennsylvania, who had said his second term would be "as dry as my first," had a 17,000 lead on incomplete returns over his Democrat-Liberal-Repeal opponent, John M. Humphill.
Another gubernatorial candidate described as dry—Wilbur M. Brucker, Republican—won in Michigan over William A. Comstock, an advocate of state and national dry referenda.
Joseph B. Ely, Democrat, running in Massachusetts on the state repeal platform, had a 20,000 majority over the Republican incumbent, Frank G. Allen, who favored retention of the state enforcement act.

Berlin, Nov. 5.—Dr. Hugo Eckener, famous Zeppelin expert, was unanimously elected president of the Aero-Arctic Society to-day.

FOG LIFTS AND B. C. AIR SEARCH RESUMED TO-DAY

Eckmann Plane Flies From Nanaimo to Cover Region South of Prince Rupert on Hunt for Pilot Renahan and Two Companions; Search for Burke Party in Liard Region is Delayed.

Nanaimo, Nov. 5.—Pilot Ansel Eckmann and two companions, aboard an Alaska-Washington Airways machine, hopped off from here at 11 this forenoon for Butedale, from where he hoped to commence a search for Pilot Robin Renahan and his two companions, missing since October 28, when they were making a flight from Vancouver to Atlin.
The Eckmann plane, a fast machine from Seattle, had been delayed a couple of days by foggy, unfavorable weather.

PLANE DELAYED

Atlin, B.C., Nov. 5.—Stormy weather, with a temperature of twenty-three degrees above zero and a dropping thermometer, kept to the ground today plane searching for Captain E. J. A. Burke and his two companions, missing for more than three weeks in the Liard River district.
Pilot Frank Eckmann plans to proceed to Anchorage, Alaska, to-morrow, but it is not clear whether or not this means he is giving up the search. Pilot E. L. Wasson is still here, but it is not considered advisable he should attempt a search alone under the treacherous weather conditions obtaining.
No word has been received here of Pilot Robin Renahan and his two companions, last reported missing between Butedale and Prince Rupert, on the coast, on his way from Vancouver to Atlin.

CLUE TRACED

Prince Rupert, B.C., Nov. 5.—What may be a clue leading to the location of Pilot Robin Renahan and his two companions, missing between Butedale and Prince Rupert on a flight from Vancouver, was reported here today by Eddie Clifton of Hartley Bay. Clifton said that on October 28, about 6 p.m., he had seen a plane heading north along Grenville Channel, south of here, flying about fifty feet above the water. The visibility at the time was rather poor.
In the light of this information, it is suggested a search of the Grenville Channel region be made.

In the House, needing a net gain of fifty-four, the Democrats had picked up thirty-four. In many additional Republican districts Democrats were leading. Six others remained too close for definite forecast. In Kentucky, from which no returns had come, five districts have been subornably disputed.

COUNTING TO-DAY

It appeared much might depend on the Blue Grass State, which under a new law did not begin ballot counting until to-day. Maintenance of existing Democratic leads, which of course by no means certain, and a Democratic victory in Kentucky, could conceivably bring both Senate and House very close to parity.

SENATORS ELECTED WERE:

- Arkansas, Robinson, Democrat.
- Colorado, Costigan, Democrat.
- Georgia, Harris, Democrat.
- Illinois, Lewis, Democrat.
- Kansas, Capper, Republican.
- Louisiana, Long, Democrat.
- Michigan, Couzens, Republican.
- Mississippi, Harrison, Democrat.
- Montana, Walsh, Democrat.
- New Hampshire, Keyes, Republican.
- Oklahoma, Gore, Democrat.
- Oregon, McNary, Republican.
- Pennsylvania, Davis, Republican.
- South Carolina, Byrnes, Democrat.
- Texas, Shephard, Democrat.
- Virginia, Glass, Democrat.
- West Virginia, Neely, Democrat.
- New Jersey, Morrow, Republican.
- New Mexico, Bratton, Democrat.
- South Dakota, Bulow, Democrat.
- Kansas, McGill, Democrat.
- Iowa—Dickinson, Republican.
- Ohio—Bulkeley, Democrat.
- Nebraska—Norris, Republican.
- Tennessee—Bullock, Democrat.
- Massachusetts—Marcus A. Coolidge, Democrat.
- North Carolina—Josiah Bailey, Democrat.
- Delaware—Hastings, Republican.
- Rhode Island—Metcalf, Republican.

MARYLAND SOLID DEMOCRAT

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 5.—The Democratic tidal wave that re-elected Governor Ritchie for his fourth term in yesterday's election, also made the Maryland delegation of six in the United States Congress solidly Democratic, beating returns to-day indicated. The Republicans lost the two seats they held.

STORM THROUGH OREGON

Portland, Ore., Nov. 5.—Storming through the Republican state of Oregon with unassisted vigor, the Democratic Party unseated one Republican in Congress, put up a bitter battle for a second position and ran ahead of the Republican Party in yesterday's election.

STUBBORN FIGHT

Willis C. Hawley, Republican incumbent, chairman of the house ways and means committee, had a bitter battle on his hands with W. A. Delzell, Democrat, opposing him in the first congressional district. With 469 precincts accounted for out of 859 in the district, Hawley had 29,723 votes and Delzell, 24,582.
Julius L. Meier, an Independent, was elected Governor of Oregon by a vote totaling nearly 3,000 more than the other three candidates combined. Edward F. Bailey, the Democrat, ran second, and Phil Metschan, Republican candidate, third. Albert Scott, Social Democrat, was fourth.

DEMOCRATS ELECT MOST GOVERNORS

Ohio—George White, Democrat.
Delaware—William H. Murray, Democrat.
Pennsylvania—Gifford Pinchot, Republican.
Rhode Island—Norman S. Case, Republican.
South Dakota—Warren E. Green, Republican.
Vermont—Stanley C. Wilson, Republican.
Wyoming—Frank C. Emerson, Republican.
Oregon—Julius L. Meier, Independent.
FIRST THIRD PARTY MAN ELECTED
St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 5.—Election of Floyd B. Olson, Farmer-Laborite, as Governor of Minnesota was conceded early to-day by his Republican opponent, Ray P. Chase, who congratulated him and said: "Returns indicate Mr. Olson has won the contest for the governorship." It was the first successful attempt of a third party candidate to gain the office.

The order of service follows:
Silent tribute: hymn, "O God Our Help in Ages Past"; invocation, Rev. Geo. Pringle; Scripture reading, Rev. Dr. W. C. Wilson; prayer, Dean Quinlan; address, Rev. O. L. Jull; hymn, "The Silent Tribute"; Last Post; benediction, Dean Quinlan; reverie, National Anthem. A silver collection will be taken for the Armistice Period-Red Cross fund.
Ministers of all denominations and the general public are invited.
A brief ceremony, conducted by the Rev. F. C. Chapman, will be held at the cenotaph on Tuesday, when the universal two minutes' silence will be observed. Commencing at 10.45 with the singing of "O Canada," the service will proceed as follows: Prayer; reading of Periodic tribute to fallen heroes; last post; two minutes' silence; placing of wreath by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor; hymn, "Abide With Me"; reverie; national anthem.

ROOSEVELT'S ELECTION SETS NEW YORK MARK

Democratic Governor Re-elected By 728,000 Plurality, Largest in State's History
Republicans Retain Control of Legislature of the State

Associated Press
New York, Nov. 5.—New York state governor had a new happy warrior to-day, and the state had a governor re-elected to office by the largest plurality it had ever given an executive.
Franklin D. Roosevelt, who called his friend and predecessor, Alfred E. Smith, "the happy warrior" in nominating him for President of the United States in 1928, warranted that title himself as he surveyed radiantly the 728,000-vote margin by which he was returned yesterday to the governorship.
His victory was of a decisiveness unmatched in state political history. Until yesterday the record plurality for a candidate governor was the 385,000 by which Smith beat Nathan L. Miller in 1922.

Not was it the fruit alone of Democratic strength in New York which usually piles up totals for the party's candidates against the deficits of the state. New York city gave Roosevelt 50,000 of the lead, he accumulated yesterday over Charles H. Huttie, Republican, but another hundred thousand and more of the plurality came from the Republican territory upstate, a circumstance almost without a parallel in that region.

With him in his state-wide sweep Roosevelt carried the entire Democratic ticket, although by margins somewhat smaller than his. Herbert Lehman was re-elected Lieutenant-Governor over Senator Caleb Baumes, Republican. Morris Tremaine won a second term as comptroller over the Republican, Daniel H. Conway, and John J. Bennett, Democratic nominee, was chosen as Attorney-General over Leodore Bookstein by pluralities ranging from 350,000 to more than 600,000.

STATE LEGISLATURE

The completion of the state legislative bodies, however, was affected less than that of the New York delegation in Congress not at all by the landslide for the Democratic state ticket. The Republicans retain control of both legislative wings of the state government.

In the state Assembly the Democrats made a net gain of six seats, but remained in the minority. They will hold seventy seats in the next legislature to eighty Republicans. At the last session there were eighty-six Republicans against sixty-four Democrats.

CONGRESS RESULTS

Republicans and Democrats both held their identical seats in the National House of Representatives, and in the next Congress, as in the last, the Republicans will have twenty members from New York and the Democrats twenty-three. In all but two districts incumbents were re-elected, and in those two Republicans ousted after defeating incumbents of their own party in the primaries.

MRS. PRATT RE-ELECTED

Mrs. Ruth M. Pratt, Republican representative from the Seventeenth New York district, was pressed closest for re-election. She bested Louis F. Wadsky, Democrat, by a scant 600 votes in New York's six-electing sector—a margin, the narrowest of which, she averred, was due to the presence in the fight of Heywood Brown, newspaper columnist and Socialist nominee.
Representative Fiorello H. La Guardia, Republican, won in the Twentieth District; Bertrand H. Snell, Republican, was re-elected in the thirty-first; and Walter Brush Smith, who defeated Chairman S. Wallace Dwyer of the house rivers and harbors committee in the Republican primary, won the fourth.

From this point a wide view is obtained to the eastward towards Lenox, Arden and Fresno far across the Douai Plain, and to the southward across the Scarpe to the heights of Monchy-lez-Preaux.
The structure for the erection of the Viny Ridge monument is held by H. T. Jenkins & Son Limited of Torquay, Eng.

Owing to the limited season during which work can be carried on and the large amount of stone-cutting and sculpture, the Viny memorial will take some time to complete.
The memorials at St. Julien in Belgium, and at Passchendaele, have been completed. General Hughes stated.

The cost of the eight memorials sponsored by Canada will be in the neighborhood of $1,500,000.

GOLDEN GATE IS TO BE BRIDGED

San Francisco, Nov. 5.—With 251 precincts unreported of 1,489 in the district, issuance of bonds to bridge the Golden Gate apparently had been approved by a margin of 15,823 votes. With a two-thirds vote required, the count was: Yes, 120,572; No, 36,709.

Negro U.S. Congress Member Re-elected

Chicago, Nov. 5.—Oscar de Priest, Republican, negro congressman from the first district, Chicago, to-day came out of what had been a close race to win with only two precincts unreported. The vote was: De Priest, 23,805; Baker, 10,422.

Brentwood

A meeting of the Ward Six Conservative Association was held on Monday night to make final arrangements for the celebration of the centenary of the Battle of Brentwood, Nov. 7, at the Institute, Hall, Brentwood.

England Defeats Scotland To-day In Soccer Match

London, Nov. 5.—England defeated Scotland in an inter-league soccer football match at White Hart Lane to-day, by 7 to 3. The score at half time was 2 to 2 in England's favor. Twenty-five thousand people saw the match.

LONDON TIMES DEBATES CHOICE OF GOVERNORS

London, Nov. 5.—The London Times to-day discussed appointment of Governors-General, one of the matters which has received consideration of the Imperial Conference, and concluded one of the remaining formal links binding the empire would be severed, or at least weakened, if Governors-General were to become merely nominees of the governments in the Dominions.

"It is not easy to see how such a nominee could adequately discharge the functions of the office set forth in the report of the 1926 Imperial Conference." The Times said. "Nothing could be more erroneous than the apparent impression in some Dominions that the Governor-General is merely a lay figure. If the Governor-General is to present His Majesty adequately, then His Majesty's part in the appointment must be real and not merely nominal. This is all the more necessary since the Governor-General is exclusively the representative of His Majesty."

At the same time it does not follow that a Dominion government should surrender the voice in selection which they have had for a good many years.

Concerning the discussion of whether a Governor-General should be a citizen of the Dominion in which he holds the highest office, the Times said it did not see why any class should be ruled out from the area of choice. But other things being equal, a Governor-General would find it easier to discharge his duties if he came from another part of the empire, free from local associations and prepossessions, it thought. The whole matter, concluded the Times, was one for informal consultation and general agreement, not for any pendant formula.

AUSTRALIA'S WHEAT EXPORTS

Melbourne, Australia, Nov. 5.—F. M. Forde, Minister Without Portfolio, to-day estimated this year's wheat yield in Australia at about 210,000,000 bushels, of which 160,000,000 bushels would be available for export.

NEW ART CENTRE

Paris, Nov. 5.—Art objects valued at more than $1,000,000 gathered by Edward M. Tuck, wealthy former Bostonian, over a period of forty years, were presented to the French Government to-day and placed in a new museum set aside in the Petit Palais.

BY-LAWS COVER BUILDING PLANS FOR ALBERNI

Approval of Ratepayers Is Sought For Expenditure of $30,000 Construction Works
Special to The Times
Alberni, Nov. 5.—Decision was made by the Alberni City Council on Monday evening, with Mayor Motion in the chair, to submit at the earliest possible moment, providing satisfactory arrangements of the necessary details, and government grants can be made, by-laws totaling over $30,000.
Of this sum $20,000 will represent civic expenditure.

Seattleite Sent to U.S. Congress Is For Change in Prohibition Law
Canadian Press
Seattle, Nov. 5.—One new Washington voice will be heard in the United States House of Representatives after March 4 as a result of the election yesterday, but politically the state delegation to the national capital will remain unchanged.

Ralph A. Horr, of Seattle, will succeed John F. Miller, of Seattle, by virtue of his victory over Charles G. Heister, Seattle Democrat, in the first district. Horr, an advocate of dry law modification, eliminated Miller in the primary last September, and in the first wet to represent the district.

In 442 out of 460 precincts Horr had gained a total of 41,639 votes compared with 29,742 for Heister.

HOLD THEIR SEATS

The four other congressmen—Lindley H. Hadley, second district; Albert Johnson, third district; John W. Sumner, fourth district; all Republicans, and Sam B. Hill, Democrat, fifth district—easily retained their seats. Republicans held their usual large majority in the state legislature and retained their grip on county offices.

Judges Adam Beeler, Seattle, appointed to the Supreme Court bench by Governor Roland H. Hartley on the death of Justice Walter M. French, Ralph Bell, Everett, his nearest opponent, in his contest to keep the position.

NO SALARY INCREASE

All initiative measures and amendments to the state constitution had apparently won out with the exception of the amendment which would increase the salaries of state legislators to $500 per annum from $5 a day. The legislative reapportionment initiative was leading by more than 17,000 votes with 1,411 out of 2,716 precincts reported. The vote was, for 65,521, against 48,420.
The district power bill had only a small lead of 5,500 votes, but it was holding its own as returns came in. Voters in 1,383 precincts in the state gave the constitutional amendment to permit classification of property for taxation purposes a sure victory. The vote was 69,758 for the measure and 44,053 against it.
The amendment to allow boards of county commissioners to fill vacancies in the state legislature, doing away with the necessity for special elections, received more than a 20,000 majority. The bill received 63,466 votes compared with 43,862 cast against it in 1,385 precincts in the state.

ARMISTICE DAY EVENTS DEBATED

Ottawa, Nov. 5.—Ex-service men parading for the Canadian Legion Armistice Day ceremonies on Parliament Hill here have never carried arms. Lieut.-Col. L. R. Lafleche, Dominion president of the legion pointed out yesterday in commenting on the controversy in Great Britain as to whether the form of the ceremony should be more along the lines of a Peace Day instead of Armistice Day. "Certainly no Canadian Legion Armistice Day service might be taken as glorification of war," Colonel Lafleche added. "Rather the whole atmosphere should be one of peace and sympathy with those families who lost loved ones."

Sunday Campaign Started in Ontario

Toronto, Nov. 5.—Inaugurating it, an intensive campaign by local Presbyteries of the United Church of Canada for more strict enforcement of the Lord's Day Act, the West Toronto Presbytery yesterday forwarded a resolution to Attorney-General W. H. Price of Ontario, asking his co-operation toward that end. The campaign, it is understood, is aimed to halt miniature golf courses from operating on Sundays, gasoline stations from selling fuel, drug stores from selling any articles other than those prescribed in the act, golf clubs from allowing members to play to the detriment of church attendance and persons from selling fruit and other produce along the highways on the Sabbath.

Hinchliffe Outlines Aims of Education

"Has Your Child a Concrete Objective?" Minister Asks British Columbia Parents

Vancouver, Nov. 5.—Discussing the question whether best results were obtained by present educational methods, Hon. J. Hinchliffe, Minister of Education, propounded several questions for British Columbia parents to consider in the course of an address before the Vancouver Canadian Club yesterday.

The duty of the Government, the minister pointed out, was in the up-building of citizenship, but he stressed the education of youth should progress in fields the Government could not invade in its scholastic endeavors.

THE SUM TOTAL

"Education, in so far as the individual is concerned, may be defined by the sum total of his training, knowledge and experience," said the minister. "Every child, as soon as he is able to observe or, as we say, take notice, begins his actual individual education. He goes on acquiring knowledge and experience, and if it is possible for him to acquire such training knowledge and experience as would fit him and compel him to make the most of life, he has obtained the ideal of perfect education."

"The education of the youth of a country, although it is in the final analysis a unity, consists of many correlated parts. If the related unity is to approximate to a satisfactory degree the ideal education, its several parts must be correctly arranged, properly balanced and presented in the most effective way by the best qualified agent it is possible to obtain. So various and numerous are these parts that no one agent can satisfactorily present them all."

CO-ORDINATION NEEDED

"The education of the youth of a country considered as a unity, therefore, must be the result of the co-ordinated efforts of many agencies—parents, religious, other teachers, society in general, and the Government. The Government is only one educational agent among many, and it is not fitted to supply, nor is it expected to supply, the whole of education. This is definitely exemplified in the case of British Columbia, where, with the consent of the people, the Government's function and responsibility in regard to education have been very definitely limited."

"For example, in our province the government as such takes no part in the education of a child till he reaches the age of six years. A great deal of education, however, has been given to a child by the time he is six, but it is education that would be almost impossible, and certainly unwise, for a government to undertake to give, and in British Columbia at any rate, the people do not expect it. Then again, there are certain portions of education that in our country the government is not allowed to undertake. For instance, it is generally believed religious education is absolutely necessary to the formation of the soundest character. Under present conditions, however, it would be practically impossible for the government to give religious education, and it would probably be very dangerous for the government even to attempt it. The people of British Columbia, know and understand the situation and they have, through their Legislature, forbidden the government to give religious education in its schools."

PARENTS FIRST

"In the work of education, which consists, as we have already noted, of many parts," continued Mr. Hinchliffe, "there are some portions which are properly and peculiarly the work of certain individuals or organizations. Parents are the proper people to do that during the first six years of life the foundations of good health and high character are laid in the minds and bodies of the children. I do not imagine the people of British Columbia would locate for one moment a change from the present procedure, which leaves the child to the care of his parents for the first six years of his life. The people would resent very pointedly any attempt by the government to make those first six years along lines the government might lay down."

"Religious training is properly the work for religious teachers and organizations," working in conjunction with the parents. Again, I say, the people of British Columbia would strongly resent any attempt on the part of the government to take up the work of religious education."

INDUSTRIAL EDUCATION

"Industrial education is a fitting work for men who are conversant with industrial operations, and who know what is required in those young people who take up industrial life."

"There is a special part also for the government, a part in which the government is particularly interested. This part of education concerns the responsibilities and duties of citizenship—those things in which the government comes in direct contact with the individual. This is the part of education that fits young people to become responsible members, not only of the community in which they live, but of the nation or people to which they belong."

"Since the government is the authority which knows and understands, enforces and protects the rights, duties and privileges that appertain to citizenship, it is surely the government's province to see education regarding citizenship is supplied to the young people of its country, and if it is not supplied in any other way it would seem to be the duty of the government to take up the work as a co-operative undertaking on behalf of all the people, and at the public expense."

NO OPINIONS

"Education in citizenship also consists of many parts," continued Mr. Hinchliffe. "The government's viewpoint in regard to education must be a very great extent, be materialistic, for a government, as such, can not deal with beliefs, thoughts or ideals. It can, generally speaking, take cognizance only of material things and overt actions. It has no right whatever to interfere with the opinions or ideals, whether moral, religious, political or otherwise, of its people, so long as those opinions or ideals do not lead their holders to break the law of the land, and so long as the government of the law takes cognizance of the opinions or ideals that the Government can take cognizance of. Seeing then, that a government is chiefly concerned with practical things, it is rather for practical than for idealistic purposes that it enters on the work of education, and its great object in that work is to make every young person as big an asset to the nation as possible, both in character and achievement."

THREE DUTIES

"A government should therefore provide, so far as it is a proper agent for so doing, such education as will help the young person (1) to support himself and those dependent on him, by his own efforts, in order that he may not become a charge on the public; (2) to be a law-abiding citizen in order that he may not by infraction of the laws of the country become a drain on its resources and a detriment to other citizens; (3) to realize the responsibility that lies on him as a member of the community to share in and perform to the best of his ability the duties of citizenship, such as bearing his part in the general expenditure undertaken by the government for the benefit of the people as a whole, taking his share in performing public duties, and doing his best to make his own life and the lives of those with whom he comes in touch peaceful, prosperous and happy. There may be other phases of citizenship that should be emphasized, but those mentioned are enough to show that even the portion of education that falls to the share of the government is in itself divisible into its component parts."

PROPER VOCATION

"In planning this portion of the education of the young people, a government will, of course, take into consideration the vocations and professions for which there is scope in its country. It would be foolish for a government to spend its money in fitting them to follow vocations that are not called for in, or are not suitable to, the country in which they live."

"In such event the government's object, to make its young people as big an asset to the country as possible, would not have been reached. In the first case, they would become an asset to some other country; in the second case, for the time being at any rate they would be a liability; and in the third case, they would be very likely to become a permanent tax on the revenue of the country and a detriment to its citizens. The character of the education provided by a government should therefore be such as would help to place the young people for the work of life that are likely to open up before them in their own country."

HELP THEM TO EXIST

"From what I have said," added Mr. Hinchliffe, "it is apparent, therefore, that whatever else a government might contribute to the education of the youth of its country it should see that its young people receive such training and instruction as will help them to make their living in the ordinary vocations and walks of life that exist in their own land."

He had been asked, he said, "Is the education of the young people of British Columbia, which is largely provided and paid for by the government, such education as would satisfy the conclusion at which we have just arrived?"

"I am not going to deal with this question at this time, although I have a great deal of information in regard to it," he said. "I could lay before you Mr. Hinchliffe, 'At some time in the near future I may possibly have the opportunity of treating it in a more comprehensive manner than I could do to-night. In the meantime I am going to put the matter before you in this way, in order to induce you to think about it: 'What education are you having provided for your son?'

WHAT OBJECTIVE

"Have you a definite object in view, a definite life work for your boy? You should have, in the interests of the boy, if he has reached the age of fourteen or fifteen years."

"Is that object you have in view a life work in the vocations that British Columbia can offer now, or is likely to offer by the time your boy reaches that stage in life when he must earn his own living?"

"Your objective a life work for your son will require him to leave the country in order to take up that work, or that will lead him into a blind alley, or leave him an industrial non-entity?"

"The honest answers you can give to these questions will indicate if you are being fair to your government, to the rest of the people of the Province, and to the one who is interested above all others—your boy himself."

POWER FOR WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, Nov. 5.—Offer of blocks of power from the proposed White Mud Falls development on the Nelson River in Northern Manitoba has been made to the city of Winnipeg by the British Dominions Power Syndicate, it is stated. The proposal, made in a letter from Sir Reginald Brad, head of the syndicate, is before J. G. Glasco, manager of the city hydro system, to whom it was referred.

New Commission Plan For Seattle Street Railway

Seattle, Nov. 5.—A citizens committee recommended to Mayor Frank Edwards yesterday that the Municipal Street Railway of Seattle be placed in the hands of a non-aligned operating commission to be provided for at the session of the Legislature of Washington state.

ONTARIO CIDER OUTPUT GROWS

Toronto, Nov. 3.—Announcement was made yesterday by Hon. T. L. Kennedy, Minister of Agriculture of Ontario, that an effort was under way to put Ontario cider on the market "in a big way."

The province has just completed arrangements with Ottawa authorities whereby a winery company will put 300 barrels of apples through its plant under the best English recipe. The resultant product is to be marketed until April, and then put out under a government label and extensively advertised, in the hope a wide-scale production and sales can be achieved by the fall of 1931.

The government had a two-fold object, said Mr. Kennedy—first, the establishment of a big market for surplus cull apples, and secondly, the reduction of Ontario's annual beer surpluses.

EXPORT OF SHARES IS DENOUNCED

Canadian Press Cable Via Reuter's Canberra, Australia, Nov. 5.—Following the revelation of a widespread effort to remove capital from Australia by buying shares here and selling them on foreign exchanges, Hon. J. E. Fenton, acting Prime Minister, has issued a statement denouncing the lack of patriotism of these persons thus attempting to evade claims on their incomes.

WATER-SHY MEN JAILED; FORCED TO BATHE FEET

Pittsburgh, Nov. 5.—Sixteen men will wash their feet each night for the next nine days although they would rather sleep outdoors rather than put their feet in a pan of water.

They were arrested for sleeping on a city wharf here with lodging cards for the Helping Hand, a dormitory for homeless men, in their pockets. Their spokesman voiced their opinion of a foot-washing rule at the dormitory.

Magistrate Leo Rotherberg yesterday sentenced them to ten days in jail and a nightly footbath.

FOUR KILLED IN KENTUCKY AS VOTE TAKEN

Two Men Wounded in That State During Congress Elections Yesterday

New York, Nov. 5.—Four persons were killed and two were wounded during the congressional elections in the United States yesterday. All the victims were in Kentucky.

There was a double fatality at Stinking Creek, Ky., where Boyd Bingham, forty, a Democrat magistrate, shot and killed Hampton Smith, forty-five, a farmer, only to be shot later by Smith's son, William. The shooting was said to have grown out of an altercation at the polls. Bingham was reported to have beaten Smith to the draw.

At Danville, Ky., Joseph Hayden, a Democratic candidate, shot and killed Ed. Donaghy, a negro. He was said to have fired in self-defence.

Elias Dotson, fifty, a farmer of Phelps, Ky., was arrested and charged with murder after the death of Ward Hatfield, thirty-five. It was said the two quarrelled over the removal of Hatfield as deputy constable. Dotson had been instrumental in his removal.

TWO WOUNDED
At Elkhorn, Ky., Adam Cotter, a former deputy sheriff, was shot twice in an election row. Another shooting was seen at Longan, Ky., where a Democratic candidate was wounded.

In New York city an aged voter, Daniel O'Brien, dropped dead inside a polling booth just as he closed the curtain.

Generally speaking, the polling was conducted in a quiet and orderly manner. In New York city, Chicago and some other centres large numbers of voters were challenged at the polls. Their cases will come before the courts.

Langford

Gaily decorated with Halloween colors and favors the Women's Institute Hall, presented a very gay appearance on Friday evening. Over sixty children sat down to supper, which was supervised by Mrs. Dan Malcolm, president of the Women's Institute; Mrs. N. G. Johnston, Mrs. A. B. Brown, Miss Amy Gladstone and others. The grand march presented a very colorful scene, the many varied costumes of the children making the task of judging the most "expensive" a hard problem. Finally the senior girls' prize was awarded to Stella Hincks, representing autumn leaves, and Frank Yates, sack cloth suit. For the juniors, Kitty Staverman, as

NO ONE THOUGHT ANYTHING COULD HELP MRS. FYVIE

"But This New Sargon Treatment Has Given Me a New Lease on Life," She Says

"When I started Sargon no one thought anything could help me, but this wonderful treatment has given me back my health and strength after everything else had failed and I'll never cease to sing its praises," declared Mrs. Jane Fyvie recently, who lives at 468 21st Avenue E., Vancouver.

"My troubles started back in 1913, at that middle time of life when so many women begin to break down. My nerves seemed to go all to pieces and with pains in my arms and shoulders, and down in my legs, I scarcely knew what a real night's rest meant. I know my liver wasn't right either, my complexion was so sallow and my tongue so badly coated. Sometimes a big 'blank wall' would come in front of my eyes when I was reading; I'd see things floating around and my head would swim and ache something terrible. Every time I'd step off a street car, I'd get so dizzy I felt like I'd swoon over. I had trouble with gas on my stomach, too; at times it would press up around my heart so dreadfully I'd have to loosen my clothing for relief.

"I never was able to find any medicine that brought me any real relief and it looked like there was nothing for me to do but to keep on going down hill. But when I read about this new Sargon helping so many others right here in Vancouver, I made up my mind to try it—and it has simply given me a new lease on life! I haven't had one trace of those pains or dizziness, or any trouble with my stomach since the second bottle; sleep, line every night, and feel stronger and better in every way than I've been in ten years!

"The Sargon Pills had a good effect on my liver that cleared up my coated tongue and bad complexion, and never caused me even the slightest discomfort.

"I've lived in Vancouver twenty-one years; raised a family of thirteen, and every word I've just said about Sargon is the gospel truth, as anyone can verify by coming to see me personally. In my opinion, it's the greatest of all medicines."

Sargon may be obtained in Victoria from the N.E. Westmaster from the Best Drug Company, in Esquimalt from Palmer's Drug Store, in Oak Bay from Charles Hudson. (Adv.)

Wonderful Treatment For Nervous Men

"Generally endorsed and prescribed by the profession, the following formula is highly efficient in loss of strength, nervous exhaustion, melancholia, anxiety, worry, dizziness, heart palpitation, trembling limbs, insomnia, thinness, cold extremities, tired 'all in' feeling, and general inability to do normal everyday duties.

Instructions for obtaining and using this treatment are simple and definite. A physician's prescription is no longer necessary, because the tablets do not contain any dangerous or habit-forming drugs. Just ask your druggist for Double Strength Erbae Tablets in sealed packages, with full directions for home use. Each package contains 30 day treatment—which, in most instances, is more than enough to prove the value of a vigorously strong and healthy body, with abundant nerve force and vitality."—J. C. G. (Adv.)

a Indian, and Claude Hincks, baker's outfit, won the prizes.

The pumpkin parade next entertained the many parents and friends present. Prizes for the best carved faces were won by Hazel Baynes, Gladys Staverman, Allen Jackson and Rodney Baynes.

The judging was done by Mrs. W. Fielding, Mrs. James Mellis and Miss L. M. A. Savory.

Games and contests were run by the school teachers, Miss L. Peacey and Miss H. Guy, assisted by pupils of the eight grade, were enjoyed by all the children.

The dressmaking competition with newspapers called for much originality on behalf of the young artists, the winners for this being won by Molly Dixon and Stanley Jackson. Clare Malcolm and Stanley Jackson were successful in the pumpkin game.

Balloon and bean throwing games called for much amusement. Eileen Hincks and Rex Jackson won trophies for making the most words, from the word Halloween.

Herbert Merry played the marches for the parades. Step dances by the two jazz niggers, Margaret Smedley and Eileen Hincks, was encoreed.

Community singing and hearty cheers for the Women's Institute and school children concluded the pleasant evening.

The children's fancy costumes were: Betty Smedley, newspaper dress; Stella Hincks, autumn leaves; Clara Malcolm, The Witch of Endor; Rosemary Bullen, Dutch girl; Margaret Smedley and Eileen N. Hincks, two jazz niggers; Glenys Smedley, Mary, Mary, quite contrary; Molly Dixon, gipsy girl; Frances Wale, Halloween; Gladys Staverman, Pizitz; Kitty Staverman, Indian girl; Margaret Merry, witch; Doris Buckley, emblems of Halloween; Betty Brotherton, milkmaid; Margaret Brotherton, harem girl; Phyllis Wilkinson, Queen of Hearts; Hazel Baynes, daffodil; Patsy Parker, mixture girl; Betty Baynes, paper dress; Mickey Staverman, fairy; Frank Yates, sack suit; Hamish Bullen, herald; H. Oswald Hincks, Halloween girl; Claude Hincks, pianist; Freddie Staverman, part boy and girl; Fitzherbert and Jeffery Bullen, two French soldiers; Howard Henna, Halloween hat; Lyall Wilkinson, hobo; Tom Dixon, Mephistopheles; David Mair, Halloween clown; Norton Welch, cap boy; Rodney Bayles, ghost cat; George Smith, old English gentleman.

Happy Valley

The annual Halloween Party given by the Lutton and Happy Valley Women's Institute for the children of Lutton and Happy Valley districts, was held at Lutton Hall on Friday evening.

The hall was prettily decorated in Halloween colors and autumn tints by Mrs. J. Trace, Mrs. Heath and Mrs. R. Brown, while Miss H. Kelly arranged the witches' innkeeper.

Mrs. A. Hankin was in charge of a daintily arranged novelty and candy stall.

Most of the children were in Halloween costumes.

Mrs. J. W. Little, as a witch, delighted the young people by telling fortunes. Games and contests were arranged by the teachers. Mr. L. B. Mathews, Mrs. Kipling and Miss Kelly, public health nurse.

Prize winners were: Gilbert Anderson (piping nose on pumpkin); bean bag contest, Edith Woodruff and Ethel Shields; clothes peg contest, Edith Woodruff, Elva Hobbs and Adeline Rhodes; cracker eating contest, Mr. A. Hobbs and Mrs. D. Welch.

After refreshments each child received a bag of candy, nuts and a toffee apple.

The happy evening was concluded by the National Anthem, played by Mrs. M. C. MacDonald.

Miss E. V. Dyer and Miss Ethel O'Connor are the guests of Miss A. Hantrin, "Finchley."

Miss Jessie Dawes of Vancouver spent the week-end with Miss L. G. Henderson.

Mrs. La Vergne and Miss E. Shields of Tacoma, are visiting Mrs. La Vergne's sister, Mrs. J. Stockbrand.

Baynes and Horie Had Low Bid For Haguelgate Span

Baynes and Horie, Vancouver contracting firm, submitted the lowest tender by a large margin for the erection of the main span of the Haguelgate high-level suspension bridge over the Bulkley River, when bids were opened yesterday afternoon by Hon. Rolf W. Bruhn, Minister of Public Works.

It was the first official act of Mr. Bruhn since the member for Salmon Arm was sworn in as Minister of Public Works.

Five bids for the Haguelgate work were received, as follows:

Baynes and Horie, Vancouver, $27,968; L. E. Williams, $34,960; Shockey Construction Company, Vancouver, $37,506; William Greenless, Vancouver, $38,663; and Philip Soffern, $39,303.

The contract had not been awarded up to this afternoon, it was announced at the Public Works Department.

Communists Form Vancouver Branch

Vancouver, Nov. 5.—During a meeting here under auspices of the Communist party, it was announced that a branch had been opened in this city of the Lumberman's and Agricultural Workers' Association which was formed in 1928.

One speaker announced that "when parades are formed here the police should be to parade at all costs, exchanging 'blow for blow' if necessary."

"BRITAIN FIRST"

From The Economist, London

Regardless of the considerable preference-already accorded to Canadian goods coming from the "Safeguarding" and "McKenna" schedules, Mr. Bennett, in effect, says to the Mother Country: "Revolutionize your fiscal policy, put duties on primary food-stuffs imported from foreign countries in order to admit under preferential rates larger quantities of Canadian wheat, and we will give your manufactured goods, not lower duties, but a preference conditioned by the further raising of our own tariff barriers against the rest of the world."

The first and most vital point in Mr. Bennett's offer is that it entails not lower but higher tariffs. There is a vast body of opinion in this country, even among those reared in the Golden Rule faith, which would have been inclined to give the most careful and favorable consideration to any proposals for Imperial preference which might have foreshadowed progress through the lowering of tariffs to anything like a system of Imperial free trade. Had any such prospect been distinct in Mr. Bennett's proposal, the government and the country would have been obliged seriously to face the issue whether Britain's international interests permitted her to consider the gradual diversion of trade channels which such a proposal would have meant. But Mr. Bennett has made it abundantly clear that the road which he proposes to follow, and on which he wishes to take the Empire with him, is a path of high protectionism, which leads anywhere but to such a breaking down of barriers between constituent members of the Commonwealth as has been achieved between the constituent members of the United States of America. In set terms he rules out the possibility of anything in the nature of Empire free trade, and in this he is explicitly supported by the other Dominion Premiers.

We are grateful to Mr. Bennett for his frankness and, in particular, for his outspoken declaration that the essence of Canadian fiscal policy is "Canada First." He will not take it amiss if we remind him that the considerations which must determine the answer of the British government, for which he is apparently unwilling to wait must be based on a policy of "Britain First." When that reply is framed—and with all due deference to Mr. Bennett, statesmen cannot reasonably be asked to sign away a country's economic birthright in five minutes—its keynote must be that the basic requirement of Britain in her present difficult commercial position is to seek the lowering of tariff barriers whenever and wherever she can find any promise of success; and the lowering of tariffs is the precise opposite of what is entailed by Mr. Bennett's proposals.

Without prolonged and detailed investigation it is quite impossible to assess the probable value of the terms which Canada offers in exchange for a complete reversal, with all its unlimited ramifications, of our fiscal policy, and for an attempt at the diversion of the channels of trade which must react on every purchaser throughout the world who deals in British products. But, on the face of it, there would appear little doubt that in terms of hard commercial advantage Mr. Bennett is offering to this country the equivalent—if we may reverse a much used political phrase—of "four-pence for ninepence."

YOUR CHILDREN

When school starts there comes a decided reaction in family life. With the exception of the mother who yields her baby for the first time into the yawning maw of the big school door and into the arms of her rival, the first-grade teacher, nearly all mothers breathe a great sigh of relief. Johnny and Betty are back on schedule, the summer trials are over. They are "put" at last and she is free to go about her own affairs once again.

The reaction is natural. There is nobody blaming the tired, harassed mother for passing on her responsibility to the public school.

But a word to the wise is usually sufficient. And I think most mothers are wise, child-wise at least, and open to suggestion.

This fall let-down acts as all let-downs usually do. We go to the other extreme and, for a while at least, shed responsibility. We let George do it.

During the summer, with its problems, perplexities and general stir-up, with children released to a laxer discipline and the various tests that freedom always brings, mothers' minds instinctively reach for a buckler of defense.

About the middle of August she begins to see the form of the big school building on the corner.

When school opens everything will be different, she figures. Her children will become civilized again. Their manners will come out of long-forgotten corners, they will learn to be punctual, they will get over their laziness, they will become more thoughtful. The nice little fiction built up through the August mist grows steadily into reality. That school building certainly spells relief.

By the time the children are back at denominated numbers and the French and Indian War, the slump is usually quite complete. She begins to think of preserves and housecleaning, and forgets about them.

The children are back in the good hands of people who "know." They will become angels of good behavior. What blessings schools are to take such good care of our children and make them into fine men and women. What harm can there be in forgetting?

But is this sloughing off all responsibility on the school right? Yet the schools and the teachers very patiently accept the situation and do the best they can.

Much as my heart is with the tired, nervous mother, it is with the school, too.

It is not in the province of the public schools to make over the manners, habits or characters of our children except where they may be affected by school work, custom and regular discipline. They are naturally great influences in character training, but only to a certain extent. I can see why teachers need even be disciplinarians. In the school of the future it won't be so, I am sure.

We mothers must not put the onus of straightening out undesirable kinks in the children on the teacher. That should be done at home. We must not expect the teacher to be the hardest job in the world.

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS

Some people claim a daily round of golf will make you hard as steel—but not well-tempered steel.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

Apples are plentiful in many sections of the country this fall and the housewife will find the purchase of half a bushel a good investment. It is always economical to buy in quantity rather than in pound lots, and apples can be used in so many ways that there is no danger of waste.

Apples may be scattered all through the menu and every member of the family can eat them and enjoy them in some form or other. Baked or steamed apples are one of the first solid foods a baby eats and these same baked apples will be relished by the elders for breakfast with cereal and cream.

Many irresistible desserts have apples as their basis. Simple and easy to prepare, they are as healthful as they are popular. The combination of meats, particularly pork, with apples, is excellent. Nearly all salads—fruit, vegetable or meat—find apples an appetizing addition.

Following are three unusual recipes for apples—The first, pork chops baked with apples, is suitable for a hearty luncheon dish or a light meat course for dinner. The salad and dessert both are delicious and can be used for company menus if desired.

Pork Chops Baked With Apples

Four thick pork chops, 1/4 teaspoon powdered sage, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 tart apples, 2 tablespoons brown sugar, 2 tablespoons flour, 2 cups hot water, 1/2 cup seedless raisins, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon, 2 teaspoons lemon juice or vinegar.

Wipe chops with damp cloth and sprinkle with sage and salt. Brown on both sides and remove to baking dish. On each chop place half an apple which has been pared and cored and the cavity filled with brown sugar. Mix flour, pepper and cinnamon and stir into fat in frying pan. Cook and stir until flour is slightly browned and slowly add water, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and add raisins and lemon juice. Four over chops and bake one hour in a moderate oven, basting several times with the sauce. Serve from baking dish.

Apple Salad

Four apples, 4 tablespoons sugar, 1/4 cup boiling water, grated rind and juice of lemon, 1-3 cup shredded coconut, 2 tablespoons chopped raisins, 2 tablespoons chopped nut meats, mayonnaise.

Pare and remove cores from apples. Make a syrup of sugar, water, grated rind and juice of lemon and add fruit. Cover and cook over a low fire until apples are tender but not broken. Baste frequently with syrup. The apples should absorb most of the syrup by the time they are done. Roll apples in coconut, coating them evenly and thickly. Fill cavities with raisins and nuts mixed with enough mayonnaise to make slightly moist. Put under flame of broiler to lightly and quickly brown coconut. Chill and serve on a bed of lettuce with a spoonful of mayonnaise on each.

Apple Meringue

Four apples, 1/4 cup stewed dates, 1/2 cup nut meats, 2 egg whites, 1-3 cup sugar, few grains salt.

Pare apples and cut in halves. Remove cores and fill cavities with about half the sugar. Place in buttered baking dish, cover and bake until half done. In the meantime beat whites of eggs until stiff and dry. Beat in remaining sugar and fold in stewed fruit and finely chopped nut meats. Cover apples with mixture and continue baking in a slow oven until meringue is firm to the touch. It will take about forty minutes. Chill and serve with or without a garnish of whipped cream.

ESQUIMALT GIRL IS BRIDE

Miss Mary Inez Trowsdale
Wed Yesterday to Raymond Spouse

A large number of guests attended the wedding held last evening at 8 o'clock at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Victoria. The bride, Miss Mary Inez Trowsdale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. P. Trowsdale, of 631 Esquimalt Road, and the groom, Raymond Spouse, son of Mr. T. W. Spouse, Craigflower Road, and the late Mrs. Spouse. The bride is a graduate of the Bechworth Nursing Home. The wedding was celebrated in a simple but elegant manner. The bride wore a gown of ivory satin, and the groom wore a tuxedo. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. S. Macdonald. The wedding party included the bride's mother, the groom's mother, and several bridesmaids and flower girls. The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

For the ceremony, the church had been prettily decorated by friends of the bride with chrysanthemums and autumn foliage. Three floral arches were erected in the central aisle. The service was held in the church. A reception was held in the Amphion Hall, Yates Street, where the bride and groom stood beneath a floral arch during the reception. The bride and groom were assisted in receiving their guests by Mrs. Trowsdale, who wore a smart dress of black tulle and a smart black hat, and by Mrs. P. White, sister of the groom, in a becoming gown of figured maroon and a hat of blue chiffon. Both wore corsage bouquets of roses and violets.

RECORD NUMBER OF APPLICANTS SEEK RELIEF

Friendly Help Found October
Busiest Month in History;
650 People Helped

Appeal Made For Donations
of Cash and Kind to Aid Needy

The largest number of applicants in the history of the Friendly Help Association applied for assistance last month, owing to the prevalent unemployment, according to the report presented at yesterday morning's meeting held in the headquarters, with Mrs. Cullum in the chair.

APPEAL FOR DONATIONS
The demands have made great inroads on the funds and supplies of the association and an earnest appeal is made for donations of all kinds. Cash, clothing, especially warm underwear, apples and vegetables are greatly needed, and there is also an appeal for a sewing machine and a heater for two needy families.

Grateful appreciation was expressed at the meeting for the kindness of the Native Daughters of B.C., Post No. 3, for holding a shower of clothing for the association; and to David Spencer, Minister for delivering the same to the rooms.

Flowers and a letter of sympathy were sent to Mrs. Beattie, who was recently bereaved by the death of her husband, Commandant Beattie of the Salvation Army.

October Donations
The Friendly Help Association acknowledges with grateful thanks the following donations received during October:

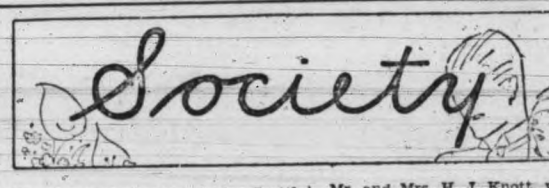

Cash—The City, H.M.C., A. M. Carr, A. Sincere Friend, J. S. Hayward, Mrs. Alan Morrell, Thompson's Grocery, Mrs. Pilgrim, W. D. Todd, Wimpia Jersey Milk Limited, James Maynard, Kirk Coal Co., Oakland Dairy, New England Market.

Grateful appreciation was expressed at the meeting for the kindness of the Native Daughters of B.C., Post No. 3, for holding a shower of clothing for the association; and to David Spencer, Minister for delivering the same to the rooms.

INDIAN SULTAN WEDS ENGLISHWOMAN

All the way from India to London went Sir Ibrahim, Sultan of the State and Territory of Johore, G.C.M.S., K.B.E., to ask an Englishwoman, Mrs. Helen Wilson, to be his wife. You see them here after she had accepted and two ceremonies, at a mosque and a registry office, had been performed. The Sultan of Johore is a big game hunter and turf sportsman, and has a vast fortune in India, where the couple will live.

Mr. W. A. Brethour left for Seattle on a combined vacation and business trip.

Mrs. M. G. Moore of St. Charles Street, left yesterday afternoon for Willowood, Penn., where she will visit for some time.

Mr. Clifford Pettit of Chemainus, who came to Victoria to attend the Spouse-Trowsdale wedding that took place last evening, returned to his home up the island this afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Miller of Cook Street have gone over to Vancouver to spend a few days, where they are the guests of Mr. Miller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Bell.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Huntington have returned to their home at Cowichan Bay after spending a short time in Vancouver, the guests of Col. and Mrs. Reginald Chaplin.

The engagement is announced in Vancouver of Miss Gladys Thackara, formerly of Sheffield, England, and Mr. L. A. Baker of Victoria. The wedding will take place on November 10 at St. John's Church, Victoria.

Captain J. W. Troup, who is visiting in Portland as the guest of his brother-in-law and sister, Brigadier-General J. P. O'Neill of the U.S. Army and Mrs. O'Neill, will return to his home in Victoria to-morrow.

Mrs. R. Lowe and her two children, who have been visiting in Victoria as the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Bowker, Beach Drive, returned this afternoon to her home in Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Taylor, Cobble Hill, announce the engagement of their youngest daughter, Hilda, to Mr. William Mudge, second son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Mudge, Cobble Hill. The wedding to take place early in December.

Mrs. M. G. Moore, St. Charles Street, left yesterday afternoon for Seattle to spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. T. B. Beldridge. Miss Ruth Moore is remaining in Victoria and is a student at St. Ann's Convent.

Mrs. David Wishart, of Esplanade, Vancouver Island, is visiting in Victoria as the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. P. Trowsdale, Esquimalt Road, having come to attend the Spouse-Trowsdale wedding that took place last evening. Mr. and Mrs. Trowsdale have also as their guests Mrs. W. B. Thorpe of Nanaimo and Mr. Daniel O'Brien of Estevan.

NEGLECTED TOTS CARED FOR BY CHILDREN'S AID

Institution Appeals For Support at Annual Pound Day
Friday

Pandora Ave. Home Has 25 Kiddies; Voluntary Workers in Charge

On Friday the Children's Aid Society will hold their annual pound party in the Home, 1254 Pandora Avenue. This occasion will present one of the most opportune times for an inspection of the premises by the general public and it is hoped that a large number of Victoria citizens will avail themselves of the opportunity to see for themselves the work being done by this organization for the benefit of the little ones, who, for no reason of their own, have come to be residents of the institution.

It is not generally known or appreciated by the citizens just what work is being done by the Children's Aid Society, and the board of management, therefore, extend to the public a cordial invitation to visit the premises on Friday. The society is most anxious to have visitors see the children in the Home and also to see the working of the organization as a whole. They feel that a closer knowledge of the work will create a wide interest in the Home and tend to extend the degree of work being done for the children who become wards of the public.

CHILDREN ARE WARDS
The children cared for by this society come under the classification of neglected and deserted, and the larger proportion of them are wards of the society, who act for the community in this capacity. None of the children are orphans as this work is separate and distinct from orphanage work. The children vary from two to two years to the highest age that they are in care, namely eighteen. Generally, however, arrangements are made to have both boys and girls self-supporting well before arrival at eighteen. Years of age they are eligible to pass out in the world on their own responsibility, but the society makes every effort to maintain contact and extend a helping hand where possible to do so.

At the present time there are about twenty-five children resident in the Home and the staff in charge consists of a superintendent, a matron, a housekeeper and a male janitor. All the staff are resident in the Home and have more or less to be available for duty twenty-four hours a day. Every effort is made to make the Home as comfortable as possible so that the children may receive the benefit of a standard of living similar to that provided in a normal private family home. All children of school age attend the public schools and every opportunity is given to encourage special ability to absorb education in all branches. Every child is taught to assume its share of household routine, and each does some light duty in the Home which, with other training, may be considered as an advantage in preparing them for the time when they will take their places as citizens of the community.

Although everything possible is done to make the lives of the children happy and to plan their future lives, the society is at all times considerably limited in operation by lack of support and need of additional funds for the work. Many additional pleasures, better clothing and more pleasant building and playground surroundings could be provided, but existing funds limit expenditure to only absolute requirements and essentials. Even these essentials at times strain resources to the limit and the various committees are constantly at work planning to arrange expenditure of funds so that the greatest possible benefit may be derived from the activities of the society.

The officers and board of directors, as well as the various committees work without compensation of any kind and the organization pays no salaries what-soever, other than the resident staff who spend day and night at work among the children in the Home. The whole work of this organization is already stated a most deserving and necessary one, and it is hoped that the citizens of Victoria, who are well noted for their generosity, will turn out in large numbers to support them and show their interest on Friday.

TOOK POISON ON LOVER'S COFFIN

Distraught Girl's Suicide
When Sweetheart Killed in Auto Crash

Santa Ana, Calif., Nov. 5.—Clinging to the coffin containing the body of her twenty-four-year-old sweetheart, Hazel Bouchet, seventeen, took poison yesterday and died despite the efforts of physicians to save her.

The body in the coffin was that of Richard Kuykendall, fatally injured on Sunday in an automobile crash near San Clemente, thirty miles south of here.

Yesterday the girl went to the mortuary and asked to see the body—alone. The morticians withdrew. In a few minutes they heard a moan. They ran in, just in time to see Miss Bouchet's arms relax from around Kuykendall's body. She slipped to the floor. A broken bottle lay beside her.

As the men went to a telephone for help, the girl raised herself and drained the contents of a second bottle.

"This is where I want to die," she said, and threw herself across the coffin.

Miss Bouchet wore a wedding ring, but officers said Kuykendall was not legally freed from a wife. Thelma, whom he had tried to divorce.

A note in Miss Bouchet's handbag read: "Dearest Honeyboy: My twenty-four hours are half gone, but I won't break my promise to you. So wait, dear. I'll be with you to-night. We'll be together again to-night, darling. You must be happy, because I am happy, because I'll be with you pretty soon. Don't be impatient. I can't stand another minute alone."

Sister Mary's Kitchen

By SISTER MARY

The lima beans of late August and early September are a heartier food than the "string" or green beans of early summer. One-fourth cup of fresh lima beans served with butter furnishes one hundred calories of protein, fat and carbohydrates, while it takes two cups of string beans to furnish the same amount of food value. The vitamin content of lima beans is not as high as that of green beans, but the food value is greater.

There are several varieties of lima beans, tiny green ones, large green ones and large, flat white ones, but they all must be gathered for immediate use before the milk inside the tender shell-like covering sets. As the beans ripen, the covering grows hard and difficult to digest and the green centre becomes firm and dry. No matter how long the beans are cooked, these conditions cannot be altered.

If lima beans have been allowed to become over-ripe before gathering, the best way to serve them is to rub them through a colander after cooking and use them in a puree or soufflé. This removes the tough covering but does not restore the delicate flavor of the tender vegetable.

LIMA BEANS IN CREAM
Beans are lacking in fat so this must be applied in the seasoning. The most delicious way to serve lima beans is in pure cream. One-half cup cream seasoned with salt and pepper and added to two cups cooked beans makes the addition of butter unnecessary. Heat the beans to the scalding point after pouring over the beans but do not let boil.

If cream is not at hand a thin sauce of the consistency of thick cream can be substituted. Two tablespoons butter, 1 teaspoon flour and 1-2 cup milk are the proportions to use for this sauce.

Cook beans in as little water as possible to prevent boiling and cook uncovered. Let water cook away or use it in the sauce. Salt when half cooked. Salt added to the water when the beans begin to cook tends to toughen the covering. Allow thirty to forty minutes for beans to cook and form the habit of shaking the pan in which they are cooking. The flatness of lima beans often makes them stick to the bottom of the pan and scorch even when there is plenty of water over them. Shaking the pan prevents this without crushing the beans as stirring would.

One pint of tender, fresh shelled beans will serve four persons.

The combination of corn and beans known as succotash is delicious and serves as an "extender" of the beans. Lima beans are usually rather expensive but if combined with corn a few go a long way. Two cups of lima beans and two cups of sweet corn cut from the cob will serve six persons.

NANAIMO NOTES
Special to The Times

Nanaimo, Nov. 5.—Mrs. Foster, regent, presided over the meeting of the Eastern Chapter, I.O.D.E., held Monday afternoon in the Malaspina Hotel. She gave an interesting report of the semi-annual meeting of the Provincial Chapter, held in Burnaby last month.

Mrs. Foster referred to the work being carried on in India by the I.O.D.E., stating that the attention of the Prime Minister and his cabinet in British Columbia is being drawn to the necessity of revising the patriotic and educational amendment of motion picture art, so that at least fifteen minutes of every show will be given to Canadian patriotic and educational subjects, illustrating resources and scenery of the province. Mrs. Ryle of Duncan was welcomed into the chapter. Mrs. W. W. Lewis will look after the memorial this month and will give a flag for the Girl Guides' company.

The following delegation of Local Council of Women attended the "Whero From" banquet held in Vancouver yesterday, held under the auspices of the Vancouver Council of Women: Mrs. F. Reynolds, president; Mesdames Vollbrecht, Sanford, McMillan and Miss L. Caldwell.

A miscellaneous shower was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Dawes, Northfield, in honor of Miss Olive Quigley, who is shortly to become the bride of William Dawes Jr. Miss Quigley was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts. A happy evening was spent in games and music followed by supper.

First United Church Christian Fellowship

On Monday night a very interesting programme in charge of the Christian Fellowship Committee was enjoyed by the young people of First United Church. A sing-song led by Pat Campbell and Dorothy Morton opened the evening's entertainment, followed by a devotional period in charge of Winnie Copeland. Jean Menzies presided.

Reports were given by the secretary, Georgina Mackay, and the treasurer, Richard Holmes. Miss Ethel MacFarlane gave a very comprehensive talk on "The Life of Luther," the great Protestant reformer. This was the initial talk of a new series on "Men Who Made the Church." Rev. Bruce Gray gave an interesting illustrated address on his work as a home missionary in southern Alberta and British Columbia. He showed some very fine slides and spoke briefly on the B.C. Marine Mission.

An outstanding feature of the evening was a group of songs sung in Japanese, Chinese and English by the children of the Oriental Home under the capable direction of Miss Moscov. A pianoforte solo by Ina Easton and two pianoforte numbers by Kathleen Irvine were very much enjoyed. Mr. Gray, on behalf of the Y.P.S., thanked those who had given generously of their time to help make the evening a success.

George Gordon, the president, announced that instead of the usual Monday night meeting at the church, a miniature golf tournament would be held at the Wee MacGregor Golf Course next Monday, November 10.

Winnie Copeland and John Gough of the literary committee will have the second number of The Quest magazine ready for distribution next week and on Monday evening, November 17, they have announced that the first inter-class debate of the season will be held.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

PRUNE JUICE CANNOT BE SUBSTITUTED FOR ORANGE JUICE

Because orange, tomato, and prune juices are mentioned as the three desirable fruit juices for baby's diet, the mother naturally assumes that prune juice is a substitute for the others. This is not true. Orange juice and tomato juice are given to a child because they are rich sources of vitamin C, and this vitamin is noticeably decreased, sometimes destroyed, in modern bottle formulas. Boiling, canning, drying, condensing, even pasteurizing, milk decreases or destroys this particular vitamin, and it must be replaced daily by sufficient quantities of either orange or tomato juice.

WHY WE MUST USE PRUNE JUICE

Prune juice is useful as a laxative. It has an acid salt when digested, while orange juice has an alkali salt. Dried fruits do not, as a general rule, furnish sufficient quantities of vitamin C to make up the deficiencies of a cooked diet, so for the young baby we must put our emphasis upon orange juice or tomato juice. In cooking or canning, tomato juice does not appreciably lose its vitamin C content.

Mrs. H. M.'s letter is along these same lines. "My baby is almost five months old and his first tooth has appeared," she writes. "He had no trouble at all and is a big baby weighing twenty pounds."

"I have started him with orange juice and tomato juice but he seems to dislike them both. He likes cereal. Can I give him anything in place of those two? How about prune juice?"

STARTING THE JUICES

Perhaps you have made an unwise choice of oranges, or have used them without water dilution and baby hasn't enjoyed the new, sharp taste. Use naturally sweet oranges, squeeze the juice, strain it, and add as much water as there is juice. Start with one teaspoon of orange juice and increase up to one ounce, giving an equal amount of water. Give by spoon and if baby still spits it out, put it right with the formula. Tomato juice may be started with one tablespoon of strained juice of canned or ripe tomatoes. Increase to one ounce or more daily. This may also be added to the bottle formula if necessary. To accustom baby to various tastes it is better to offer these juices alone. They are too important to be discontinued because of baby's dislike, so if he doesn't take them readily, they should be included in the formula.

Your other requirements right now are cod liver oil and the cereal, which you said baby enjoyed. Plain or flavored cod liver oil is started in five drop doses and increased up to two teaspoonsful a day. This last amount being too large an amount for one dose, is divided into three doses. The concentrated oils must be advised and does suggested by a doctor. They are too powerful to be handled by amateurs.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Guild of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church was held in the lecture room of the church Monday afternoon, with the president, Mrs. M. R. Pearce, in the chair. The reports of the sick and flower committees showed a busy month, thirty-three calls having been made. The annual bazaar will be held on Saturday, November 15, under the able chairmanship of Mrs. John Cochran, who has assembled a large and varied display of fancy work, aprons, candy, handkerchiefs and superlatives while the home-cooking will be an important feature at the bazaar. There will be a bran pie for the children. Ten dollars was voted at the meeting to the Kaiser-Rind Chapter in India. A Poppy Fund. A social hour brought the meeting to a close.

Should Ottawa Dominate Our Local Affairs? OUR SEAPLANE BASE REFUSAL

By SYDNEY PICKLES, A.F.R.A.E.S.

Since writing several articles strongly advocating the use of seaplanes on our local air service, and the establishment of a seaplane dock in Victoria Harbor, which were published in The Times just two years ago, I have remained on the matter. But the recent action of the Federal Department of Marine at Ottawa, in refusing permission to our harbor to have a base on the foreshores of our harbor should make the blood of every citizen of Victoria and surrounding districts boil vigorously and produce an energetic and universal protest.

As a piece of iron-heeled domination by Ottawa to the right of development of our city, it surpasses anything one can conceive. The transparent "public interest" excuse that permission to build a seaplane base on the foreshores of our harbor is not in the "public interest," is simply the usual political comment which can be used to cover a multitude of sins. It is evident that the transportation companies operating from our harbor have used every effort at Ottawa to stifle the younger member of our transportation service. They are trying to jump on his chest with both feet. Of course, since the seaplane has now proved itself such a convenient, safe and fast means of travel on our local air routes, it is not likely to be supplanted by the competition of the rival transportation companies.

It has caused these rivals to shake each other's hands and unite to crush a common enemy. They do not want the cake cut into too many slices, as that simply means that their hungry jaws will no longer be able to wolf it all. The convenience of the public, or "public interest" really comes in for much consideration, when there is a likelihood of a smaller portion of the cake being earned by somebody else. After all, the public has to pay for the services which they get, surely if they are paying the piper, they should have the free right to call the tune, and not be dictated to by the present transportation barons. It will be a bad day for the people of Victoria, and also Canada, if these companies are permitted to join hands and pull every political string which when manipulated in a certain manner, can be made to accomplish perfectly mysterious results. But it is such a mystery after all. The public can see through it all, but they seem to be "bull-dozed" into an almost helpless state of acceptance of these political conditions.

POSTMASTER'S INTERFERENCE

It is evident from the press reports that Mr. Strath and Mr. E. H. B. Kent and their associates have worked hard in the interest of commercial aviation for our city, and have evidently done an excellent job of work, so far as is within their powers; but through the high-handed action of the Department of Marine it looks as if their efforts may be wasted, unless we citizens of the most westerly city in Canada get busy and insist that our representatives make a strenuous protest at Ottawa. If we take these insults lying down, it means that we will get plenty more of them. It is a preposterous interference in our local affairs. Fortunately the Department of Marine cannot prevent seaplanes or other water craft, such as boats, etc., from using our harbor, provided they do not cause serious obstruction in the recognized navigable channels. We have to feel gratified that the transportation barons have not been able to bottle up all the water for their own profitable use, also the land above the water, which is outside the reach of the Department of Marine. We should all offer a prayer of thanks. The only territory that they can be seen awkward about is the area between high-water mark and the harbor line, so they have been induced to seize this opportunity and have refused permission to build a seaplane base on the foreshores, although I understand that the agent of the Department of Marine in Victoria had previously granted his approval, and as a result of this approval work was actually commenced on the base. When the local agent of the Department of Marine performed his rather remarkable right-about-turn, the work had to be stopped, and the men employed on the base had to be laid off pending settlement of the matter, thereby creating more unemployed, which is a particularly serious matter in the present difficult times.

Anybody can use this harbor offshore, as it is public property, but the Department of Marine controls the granting of leases for the erection of any building on the same. It is interesting to note that the wealthy established companies seem to be able to manage to get permission to build wharves, etc., without any difficulty; but it is just too bad if any smaller and less wealthy competitor wants any such permission to grant it in the "public interest" to grant it.

APPROVED SITE

If Victoria Harbor cannot be used as a seaplane base, then the southern extremity of Vancouver Island cannot be served by seaplanes, as I understand the Department of Civil Aviation will not approve of any other site in this area. Esquimalt Harbor, Cadboro Bay and Elk Lake have been fully considered, and approval has been refused for various perfectly good reasons. As far as Esquimalt Harbor is concerned, this cannot be used as it is a Naval Base, and I also understand that the Naval Authorities will not agree to its use as a commercial seaplane base; and in any case it is much farther from the city than the outer harbor, and consequently the time gained by flying would be largely offset by the time taken for the journey from Esquimalt Harbor into the city.

We have heard a great deal about the danger of seaplanes operating in our harbor. This, of course, is merely inspired exaggeration. It is reported in the press that on Monday last the propeller wash from one of the ferry steamers sank a small skiff which was tied up alongside a barge and drowned one of the boys on board. I understand it. Such a thing could not possibly happen even if a whole fleet of seaplanes were operating in the harbor, as they do not make any propeller wash or waves of any magnitude on the water. Further only a matter of a week or so ago, another ferry steamer ran into and sank a tug in the straits, and the crew barely escaped with their lives. Further, about a year ago two ferry steamers collided in the middle of the night on the passage to Vancouver, and a major catastrophe which may easily have cost hundreds of lives.

We all know that steamship travelling, or for that matter, any form of mechanical transportation, is not one hundred per cent. safe. But it is perfectly absurd for these transportation companies to try and convince the public that seaplane transportation from our harbor is an abnormal danger to life.

An interesting example of what our chief politicians can do in the way of creating virtual monopolies for favored transportation systems, one only has to look at the recent B.C. Highways Act which ingenious piece of legislation practically prevents any possibility of competition with the bus transportation systems now operating on our highways. Therefore, any of our progressive sons, or daughters for that matter, are practically prevented from starting up competitive services, even if they are able to produce the finest equipment available for the purpose.

History seems to go on repeating itself with monotonous regularity. The old order changeth and giveth place to new, but not very easily. The old order always have resisted any new development, particularly when they may lose a few dollars and cents, and it has not been until vigorous and aroused public protest has taken place that the new order has been given a fair chance to prove itself.

UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF

Apart from the interesting question of the travelling public in this matter, there is the question of unemployment to be considered. The blockade of the seaplane base means the loss to our city of an investment of at least $120,000, which to say the least would be very acceptable in these times, particularly when it is entirely fresh capital being brought into Canada. It does not mean merely a transfer of capital within our own country; go that any employment it gives in Canada will be new employment, and not merely substituting employment. The work which was in progress has had to be stopped, the men laid off, and the further prospect of this employment is nil. Let us keep competition in business a perfectly fair and open thing, and not a closed door for the favored few.

CALL INDIGNATION MEETING

Let every citizen of the southern extremity of Vancouver Island, as this concerns not merely Victoria alone, attend an indignation meeting as quickly as possible, and register their resentment of such undue interference with our local affairs by Ottawa, which it is hardly necessary to mention is some three thousand odd miles from Victoria. Will some prominent public spirited citizen call a public meeting as soon as it can be possibly managed, before it is too late, and this unique opportunity to improve the status of Victoria, to relieve unemployment, and of bringing new capital to the tune of at least $120,000 into our city, is lost.

Owing to the comments suggesting ulterior motives which were made when I wrote my previous articles, on this subject, I feel it is necessary to again mention that I am not connected directly or indirectly with any commercial aviation organization, nor am I interested in the sale of any land, or anything else connected with aviation development in our city. This is mentioned as one's public-spirited efforts are always scoffed at by people who have axes to grind.

DEBATING TEAM SELECTION MADE

J. O. Fisher and Capt. Hugh Allan to Meet British Debaters This Month

John O. Fisher, of the Civil Service Literary and Debating Society, and Capt. Hugh Allan, of the Effusive Speaking Group of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, were chosen yesterday evening to represent the city against the British debaters.

The judges were: His Honor Judge P. Langston, B. C. Judges of the Times and Professor E. S. Farr of Victoria College.

Those contesting the eliminations, in addition to the winners, were: W. Skilling, G. W. Perry, Watson, Rotary, and A. H. Spurr and Frank Carles of the Victoria High School evening class.

DO YOU SUFFER FROM CONSTIPATION?

Countless remedies are advertised for constipation. Many relieve for the moment but they are habit forming and must be continued. Others contain calomel and dangerous mineral drugs, which remain in the system, settle in the joints and cause aches and pains. Some are harsh purgatives which cramp and gripe and leave a depressed and exhausted feeling.

Avoid lubricating oils which only grease the intestines and encourage nature's machinery to become lazy.

A purely vegetable laxative such as Carter's Little Liver Pills, gently touches the liver, bile starts to flow, the bowels move gently, the intestines are thoroughly cleansed and constipation poisons pass away. The stomach, liver and bowels are now active and the system enjoys a real tonic effect. All druggists 25c and 75c red pkgs.

NAPOLÉON SUFFERED FROM EPILEPSY

Many Of The World's Leaders Were Epileptics

New York, N.Y.—The leading scientists and physicians have for some time tried to discover the various causes and treatment of epilepsy.

During the recent world war a new method of treatment was used on thousands of officers with remarkable results. An interesting booklet describing this new treatment for epilepsy will be sent free to all people who are interested. It tells how fit attacks can be quickly stopped without resorting to harmful habit-forming drugs. This booklet explains how this terrible affliction has at last been conquered.

RESIDENTS SEEK SEAPLANE BASE

Property Owners of James Bay Circulating Petition to Minister

Think It Would Add to Value of Property Want Encouragement Given

Residents of the James Bay district near the site proposed for a seaplane base for the Pacific International Airways Ltd. at a meeting held at the home of Paul Lambert, 124 Superior Street, decided to join the movement to request a reversal of the decision of the Federal Department of Marine refusing foreshore rights to the company.

Several members voiced the view that there could be no objection from property owners to a seaplane base being established in the district, but rather it would increase the value of property. For the good of the city generally they thought every encouragement should be given to aerial transportation companies.

CIRCULATE PETITION

It was decided to circulate the following petition and when completed it will be forwarded to Hon. Alfred Durand, Minister of Marine.

"Whereas it appears from press reports that the Pacific International Airways are prepared to expend a large sum of money in constructing a seaplane base in Victoria Harbor.

"And whereas aviation experts representing the Department of National Defence of Canada have officially approved the site chosen for such a base.

"And whereas the Victoria City Council, the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, and many other private organizations and public bodies have thoroughly investigated all angles of the project and are satisfied that such a base would be a valuable asset to the city of Victoria.

"And whereas the construction of such a base at the present time would be one factor in assisting to relieve local unemployment problems.

"And whereas it would seem that certain influences have been brought to bear on the Department of Marine at Ottawa to withhold the granting of foreshore rights for the purpose herein referred to, with a view to eliminating competition in transportation circles.

"We therefore beg to respectfully petition the Honorable Alfred Durand, Minister of Marine for the Dominion of Canada, to immediately grant foreshore rights to the Pacific International Airways in Victoria Harbor, in order that this legitimate enterprise may commence the construction of their project without further delay."

TELLS HOW FAT MEN CAN LOSE HALF-A-POUND A DAY

Whilst Gaining Energy, Vigor, Endurance

Here's a simple way to get rid of that corporation and quickly feel in both body and mind the joy of living. Start taking Kruschen Salts—that's the common-sense way to reduce—but don't take them with the idea that they possess reducing qualities in themselves. This is what they do—they clean out the impurities in your blood by keeping the bowels, kidneys and liver in splendid working shape, and fill you with vigor and tireless energy you'd almost forgotten had existed.

The urge for activity will be so marked that even at the end of a hard day's work you'll feel ready for any social activity or recreation—you can play as hard as you work.

And after two weeks your excess flesh starts to go—you'll know it—feel it—see it—the scales will tell the story. As one once-convalescent man remarked:— "I feel so energetic that I want to 'get up with the lark,' and I'm just as lively as a cricket."

It's the safe way, too—for every day you continue this easy method of losing unwanted and unneeded flesh, you'll gain in energy, vigor and endurance. Nine times in ten obesity means inactivity—it means that your blood is starving for the six vital salts your internal organs need to keep you youthful, active, ambitious and keen in mind.

When you take Kruschen Salts every morning in a glass of hot or cold water you get these six vital salts which modern foods and cooking do not supply.

Kruschen Salts is a real system conditioner and for those who are the victims of constipation or toxemia, its daily use soon means blissful regularity. Kruschen Salts is obtainable at all Drug Stores at 45c and 75c per bottle. (Advt.)

UNEMPLOYMENT IS REDUCED BY RELIEF SCHEME

Government Survey Shows Situation Better as Work Programmes Started

Steady reduction of the number of unemployed in B.C. with the extension of the relief policy under the Federal act is reported by the Provincial Department of Public Works, which has programmes submitted from sixty-five out of seventy-five municipalities.

Work totaling 1,268,150 has been signed up for under municipal-provincial-federal agreements, of which thirty-four have been completed. Of this amount half will be contributed by the Provincial and Federal Governments and the other half will come from municipal funds.

Revelstoke signed for a grant of $11,000 toward a $22,000 programme this week, while Port Moody accepted $2,750 on work estimated to cost $7,500. Two municipalities have indicated they will not need government aid.

In addition to municipal programmes the government is carrying out work in unorganised districts.

The effect of the relief scheme has been closely watched, and according to a survey placed before the government, the percentage of unemployed has been steadily reduced.

METCHOSIN

Mrs. J. M. Milne entertained on Saturday evening with three tables of bridge.

A new supply of books having arrived from the Public Library Commission, the library will be open as usual on Thursday afternoon from 3.30 to 5 p.m.

POSTMEN WILL HAVE HOLIDAY

No Deliveries to Be Made on Thanksgiving

Postmen will enjoy a holiday next Monday, Thanksgiving Day. It was announced by the postmaster, H. J. Gardiner, this morning. There will be no deliveries by letter carriers or by rural mail carriers, he stated. The Post Office lobby will be open from 8 o'clock in the morning until 6 o'clock at night, but the money order windows will be closed all day.

General delivery and registration windows will be open for two hours in the morning, from 8 to 10 o'clock, and postage stamps will be sold during that time.

The evening street letter box collections only will be made.

All mails dispatched as usual.

SERIOUS PEST OF NARCISSUS IS DISCOVERED

Dr. Wm. Newton Warns Victoria Horticultural Society of Eel-worm Disease

Eel-worm disease, a highly destructive pest which nearly wiped out the narcissus bulb industry of Holland, has been found in Victoria district, the Victoria Horticultural Society was yesterday evening informed by Dr. William Newton, in the course of an address at the City Hall, Dr. A. G. Price presided over the large attendance, and the meeting was marked by a fine display of chrysanthemums.

Dr. Newton warned of the seriousness of eel-worm disease, and the standard remedy, the bulbs being held for two hours in warm water at a temperature of 112 degrees Fahrenheit.
This treatment would kill the eelworm and also the grub of the narcissus fly, but not control the basal end rot. The hot water treatment frequently spread the rot, but that was preventable if a disinfectant, preferably Sensisan, at the concentration marked on the package, were placed in the hot water bath. Corrosive sublimate might injure the bulbs, he said.

Dr. Newton also dealt with disease such as tulip fire, current season infection, callosus formations, disease of roses and degenerate diseases in ornamentals.

Dr. Price announced the prize winners for the monthly competition were:
Floral section, E. M. Thornton, R. W.
Paton; vegetables, A. M. Scott and G.
Wallace.

TWO TYPES OF HOSPITAL ARE CHIEFLY USED

H. Whittaker, Provincial Architect, Reports on European Inspection Tour

Henry Whittaker, provincial architect, in a report filed yesterday with
Hon. R. W. Bruhn, Minister of Public Works, in regard to his recent tour of European hospital centres, states that European psychopathic hospitals may be grouped in two classifications, cottage and central unit, the English institutions being chiefly of the cottage type.

Louvain, Belgium, has one of the finest examples of the cottage psychopathic hospital, while the German practice generally favored the larger units. He specially studied the new hospitals at Frankfurt and Munster in Germany and the Belgian institution at Louvain. Mr. Whittaker stated that the buildings generally used were not as good as the structures at Escondido.

ISOLATED LOCATIONS

Remarking upon the European instance upon freedom of patients from restraint, Mr. Whittaker reports that the admission hospital is usually separate from the mental hospital, although on the same site.

Patients are given psychopathic treatment before admission to the mental hospital proper, and, if there is any chance of recovery, they are not admitted to the mental institution. No cut patients are treated, as the hospitals are usually isolated from communities by several miles.

Mr. Whittaker visited courthouses and museums in Great Britain, and on the continent, but obtained such data of value in planning buildings.

MUCH UNEMPLOYMENT

European conditions of unemployment were far more severe than on this continent, Mr. Whittaker found. Textile and similar factories were running at half normal volume.

United States western fire was becoming popular in Britain for doors, and he believed British Columbia mill products should find a considerable opening there in the face of a great housing shortage.

Mr. Whittaker stated that H.R.H. the Prince of Wales had purchased the bungalow exhibited at the great Olympic Exhibition and made from British Columbia materials.

Murder Is Confessed By California Man

Los Angeles, Nov. 5.—Shortly after arresting Ben J. Brown, twenty-seven-year-old Huntington Park glass worker, early this morning, police said they had obtained a surprise confession from him in which he had admitted slaying Mrs. Merle Ellis of Pasadena last Sunday on order of $2,000 from her estranged husband, Emory, to kill her.

Badminton Players To Perform Against British Stars

Plans Advance For Visit To City of Internationalists

Pick of Island Players Will Oppose Tourists in Mixed Doubles and Men's Doubles; Date of Exhibition Changed From November 26 to 28; Lieutenant-Governor Bruce, Miss Mackenzie and Mayor Ansoncomb and Mrs. Ansoncomb Will Act as Patrons; Afternoon and Evening Exhibitions Will Be Staged at Armories.

With the date of the visit of the English international badminton players not far away, plans are taking form for the visit which is to be a red letter day for badminton on Vancouver Island. The first date released showed the badminton experts due to perform on November 26 but the latest announcement made by the manager of the tour is that the players will perform in Victoria on Friday, November 28.

MAPLE LEAFS TO BE TAKEN ON ROAD TOUR

Members of Toronto N.H.L. Entry Will Be Given Final Trials Under Fire

Open at London To-day; Youngsters Show Up Well in Game With Regulars

Toronto, Nov. 5.—In order to give every player a fair trial under fire, Managing Director Connie Smythe has decided to take the entire squad of the Toronto Maple Leafs, National Hockey League team, on the exhibition tour which started in London to-day. The squad was divided into "blue" and "white" teams yesterday and played the twenty-minute periods of stop bang hockey with Referee R. W. Hewitson in charge. After the fastest display so far this season the score stood three-all when Coach Duncan called it a day.

The youthful forward line of Jackson, Primeau and Conacher showed up well against the experience defence pair, Clancy and Day, each of the youngsters cutting in to score a goal on concerted efforts.

REGULARS SHOW WELL

Acc Bailey was in sparkling form and scored for the "Blues," while Hap Day helped himself to a couple of goals on the count and keep the "kids" from being too cheery. Horner showed up well on the defence, partnered with Duncan.

Andy Blair had a recurrence of his jaw trouble yesterday and did not appear to advantage and it is now doubtful whether he or Shrimp McPherson will start the season at centre in the regular line-up. The latter went much better yesterday.

Ey Culbertson, captain of the American team which won the bridge contest in London, ascribes the victory to the fact that Americans make a more intense study of the game and organize their teamwork better.

Campbell Cup Won By Mrs. Hutchinson After Close Match

Taking a one-hole lead at the seventeenth and having the eighteenth.

Mrs. Hutchinson won the Campbell Cup replay at the Colwood Golf Club from Mrs. Morris in one of the best matches ever seen in competition for the Cup.

Throughout most of the match the rivals remained virtually on even terms, neither golfer gaining more than a single hole lead. Mrs. Hutchinson allowed Mrs. Morris thirteen strokes and had great difficulty in taking the contest by her narrow margin.

Last Thursday the two battled to a tie.

Trouble Between Commissioner And Promoter Fixed Up

St. Louis, Nov. 5.—The difficulties between Miquel Malloy, Chicago boxing promoter, and Henry Taylor, Missouri boxing commissioner, which resulted in Malloy's suspension in Missouri, and consequently in all other states under jurisdiction of the National Boxing Association, have been ironed out.

Upon Malloy's representation that he wanted to act as a matchmaker in Missouri and not as a promoter, Commissioner Taylor reinstated Malloy as a promoter, and Malloy immediately asked that his Missouri promoter's license be cancelled, which was done.

BILLIARDS

With comfortable margins, Britannia Branch representatives sent the Army and Navy "B" and Pro Patria Branch "C" teams to defeat in their respective divisions in the Inter-services Billiard League fixtures played yesterday evening.

306-335 count and overcame the Army and Navy by a score of 571-449. Results follow:

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)

Winnipeg, Nov. 5.—Wheat: Following an erratic trend in the early stages the market to-day worked to lower levels with the class of support throughout of an indifferent character. Short covering followed a temporary decline at the opening bell, largely because of firmness shown in the Chicago market at this time.

Political changes in the United States caused some uncertainty, but the southern market did not hold so well later on with the result that local support was withdrawn from the market and prices went lower. Cable indicated that Liverpool refused to follow the late upturn here yesterday, and export business was the same old story, namely, just thin and scattered.

Weakness in the Buenos Aires market indicated that little anxiety was felt there as to rust developments and news from Australia was also favorable, with one estimate report mentioning an estimated crop of 210,000,000 bushels. Country wheat marketings yesterday again exceeded the 2,000,000 bushels mark and hedging pressure was therefore a factor, although offerings from this source were not oppressive.

The large Canadian interest credited with liquidation in the May-on-the-Essex market, the cash market was quiet with only fair demand for certain grades, of which round lots are hard to obtain and bids on these grades were quarter better. Offerings were only moderate, and holders generally appear to be satisfied with their position, but holders chiefly are elevator interests, and who have full carrying charge assured.

Coarse grains: These markets followed the trend of wheat, but there was not much pressure in evidence, while the demand was insignificant. The cash market continued quiet with only the odd car changing hands. Oats closed 1/4 to 1/2 lower, barley 1/4 to 1/2 lower, and rye 1/4 to 1/2 lower. Closing prices 1/4 to 1/2 down on the nearby months and 1/4 down in May.

Note: Liverpool due 1/4 lower based on Winnipeg.

Dorothy Dix

There is no other vanity in the world so great as the vanity of parents. Compared to that all other vanity is as the shrinking violet to the brazen sunflower. The initial and the most touching exhibition of vanity that parents give is that which makes them believe that their offspring are far superior to any other children and that they have points of beauty and intelligence and talent that no other children possess.

They can see how homely is the snub-nosed little Smith girl, how dull is the slow-witted Jones boy, what hellions the Black children are with their noise and mischief that upsets the whole neighborhood. But their Mary's pug nose becomes merely reticence and pleasure in their eyes; little Bobby's dumbness is just profound thoughtfulness indicative of a deep mind, and when their Sammys and Bobbys whoop like wild Indians and break windows, it just shows how alive and alert and filled with energy they are. Even their babies don't howl like other brats, for every mother is sure that when her baby cries its wails are never off key.

If believing that all of their black birds are white is Exhibit A of parental vanity, then desiring their children to be replicas of themselves is Exhibit B. Now, goodness knows, not many of us are such living pictures that we should desire unlimited copies of the original to be made. On the contrary, we might well spend the time before the advent of a baby on our knees, beseeching a merciful Providence not to afflict a poor little innocent child that has never done any harm to anybody with our facial and bodily defects.

But do parents do this? Never. Are they crushed with regret when friends and relatives tell them that the new baby is just their spit and image, as Uncle Remus used to say? Far from it. They simply chortle with delight.

Father may be a chinless wonder, with a mouth like the slit in a letter box and ears that flop like a bloodhound's, and you would think he would be too humane to wish even his worst enemy to look like him, but he is tickled pink when people say that his son is his very image. Mother may be homely enough to stop the clock, but she doesn't weep tears of commiseration over her unfortunate little daughter when people tell her that Sally has her hair, which is curly, or her eyes, which are like pale-blue glass marbles, or her figure, which is lumpy. No, indeed. Mother bridges and smiles and is as pleased as punch.

Nor is parental vanity satisfied by fathers and mothers wanting their children to look exactly like them. They want them to have their characteristics. You will often hear a man actually boasting of the escapades of a wild son because he was a gay dog himself when he was young and Tom's just like him. Or a mother will excuse the temper of a virago daughter because she is "high strung" like herself.

Parents seem actually proud of defects that their children have, provided they are their own particular weaknesses. Nine times out of ten which you hear fathers and mothers complain that they are disappointed in their children it doesn't mean that the children have done anything that they should not have done. It merely means that they are different and refuse to be rubber stamps of their fathers and mothers.

Exhibit C of parental vanity is the way parents pose before their children as models of perfection. According to their own account they have always, from their youth up, been saints and angels without a single human weakness.

As a boy, father always obeyed his kind parents and loved his dear teacher and doted on going to school and when he went to work he was an industrious apprentice who always punched the time clock on the dot and saved his money and he never did anything foolish or extravagant or drank too much or stayed out too late in his whole life or yielded to any temptation.

And when mother was a girl she was little Miss Prunes and Prisms and she helped mother around the house and never looked at a man until he asked her parents' permission to call upon her, and when she had a beau they sat in opposite corners of the parlor and conversed about Shakespeare and the musical glasses, and she liked simple little muslin frocks and never kissed a boy and wouldn't have dreamed of such a thing as going out buggy riding alone with a young man and so on and on.

And it is because parents stand up so high on their pedestals of vanity that their children can't talk to them about their little troubles and worries, for how can a poor, little, weak sinner expect understanding from an austere saint whose foot has never itched to follow the primrose path?

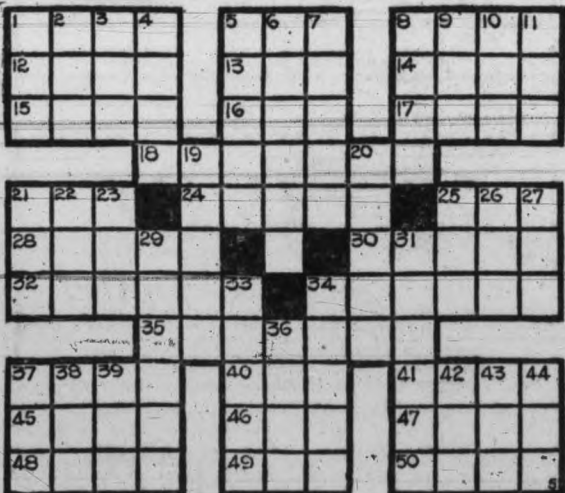

And Exhibit D of parental vanity is the most colossal of all. It is the vanity that makes parents feel that they are oracles and that they have a right to decide their children's lives. Their slogan is, "Father, or mother, knows best," and with it they ruthlessly crush out individuality, blight ambition and break hearts times out of number.

Father and mother may have made utter failures of their own lives. They may have the judgment of a hen and the world experience of a canary bird in a cage, but that doesn't keep them from feeling that they have a perfect right to run their children's lives and choose their occupations for them and pick out their husbands and wives for them and that their children should ask their advice on every subject.

Funny thing, parental vanity, isn't it? But it is a consolation prize that God gives fathers and mothers to pay them for the work and worry and sacrifices of bringing up a family.

McLeod Players
Will Open Monday
With Good Comedy

First Performance Here at the Royal Victoria Will Be "Blue-beard's Eighth Wife"

The Royal Victoria Theatre will open on Monday night next when the Gordon McLeod English Players will begin their season with the farce comedy entitled "Bluebeard's Eighth Wife." This comedy was played in London at the Criterion Theatre by Madge Titherage and Norman MacKinnel, for fourteen months. Full of laughter, this play is not merely funny but very clever. It was adapted from the French of Alfred Savoir by Charlton Andrews. The reputation of this play is sure to fill the Royal on Monday for the opening performance of the English Players.

Edith Christy will be seen as Monna, the darling young French woman who takes a chance as the eighth wife of the modern Bluebeard, Robert A. Dalrymple, the millionaire Bluebeard is a newcomer, and will doubtless win his way into the good graces of Victoria audiences. Miss George, a character part, will be played by Maybelle. The part of Hubert Moreau, which is one of the finest parts in the play and takes the skill of a light comedian, will be taken by Patrick Ludlow, who has already starred in this particular part. Others in the company are Hugh Symington, Willie Watson, Peggy Bernard, George Durbin. The play is in three acts, the third having two scenes. The production is under the personal direction of Gordon McLeod, who has also supervised the elaborate stage effects. The box office will open on Friday morning.

BERT ROACH HAS COMEDY ROLE IN CAPITOL FEATURE

Bert Roach, who appears in "Girl of the Golden West," which is now playing at the Capitol Theatre as a First National and Vitaphone production, is a heavy eater. He admits it. He watches to see that his food is heavy, and that there is plenty of it regularly. Roach's rotundness has won him many comedy roles, and has made him one of the outstanding funmakers of the talkies.

"Strangely enough, I enjoy exercise, especially golf, but I have to be careful not to play too much, or I begin to lose weight too rapidly, and producers notice it at once."

ELABORATE SETS
USED IN FILMING
COLUMBIA PICTURE

Each Indian prince has a weakness for French period furniture as well as for European motor cars, and it is a poor Rajah who cannot boast of genuine pieces from the palaces of the French kings.

Consequently the dressing of the elaborate sets used in the Vitaphone version of "The Green Goddess," the first talking picture George Arliss made for Warner Bros., now playing at the Columbia Theatre, offered many unusual complications. Lal Chand, a native Hindu, employed as technical director for the picture, supervised the furnishings of the sumptuous apartments of the Rajah.

According to Mehra, the gilded and ornamental French furniture fits peculiarly well into the carved marble and inlaid walls and floors of the East Indian palace.

AMUSING SCENES IN "GOLDEN CALF"
AT THE PLAYHOUSE

A close-up of life in Greenwich Village is afforded in "The Golden Calf," spectacular Fox Movietone comedy with music, now showing at the Playhouse Theatre. Jack Mulhall has the role of a young advertising artist in search of the "golden calf" for a hoarse advertising campaign. Sue Carol is his secretary; El Brendel, an artist friend; Marjorie White and Richard Keene are two stage people who enter actively into the story, and Paul Page is a wealthy friend of Mulhall. William Webb directed and Ned Martin served as associate producer, with Frank Merzlin directing the dialogue.

CLARA BOW GIVES FINE PERFORMANCE
AT THE DOMINION

Clara Bow, in her latest starring picture, "Her Wedding Night," has in her supporting cast the great-granddaughter of the first governor of California, Natalie Kingston, a nation picture actress since 1924 and a former stage dancer.

While there is small connection between being the great-granddaughter of California's first governor, Gen. M. G. Vallejo, and playing in a motion picture with Clara Bow, the two facts together make Miss Kingston a person of more than ordinary interest. Miss Kingston's maternal grandfather, Count Agoston Harsanyi, introduced the wine grape into California. Her grandmother, Natalie Harsanyi, led the grand march with President Abraham Lincoln on the occasion of his second inaugural ball.

In "Her Wedding Night," which closes its three-day run at the Dominion Theatre to-day, Miss Kingston is a member of a cast which includes Ralph Forbes, Charles Ruggles and Skeets Gallagher.

COLISEUM COMEDIAN SUFFERED SERIOUS INJURY TO SCALP

Ganges

A very jolly Halloween fancy dress masquerade dance was organized by the Ganges Athletic Club, and held Friday evening at the Mahon Hall, Ganges. Hagus's orchestra was in attendance. The hall was very attractively decorated with black and orange, which harmonized effectively with the many gay costumes worn by the dancers. The grand parade took place at 12 o'clock, when the prizes were awarded as follows: Most original, Miss Hilary Purdy, "Hindu Princess"; best home made costume, Miss Viola Hamilton, "Black and White"; best costume, Harry Nicholas as "Goliath"; the tomboy prize was won by L. King and the cake for correct weight guessing, by Len Nichols. Winners of the prizes for "spotlight" dances were Miss Elizabeth Monk and Stanley Rogers and Miss Mary Purdy and Gerald Jackson. Constable Tweedhope and partner won the prize in the waltz competition. Among the many pretty costumes noticed were: "Hail Ganges," Mrs. E. Lumley, "Italian Lady," Miss Nancy Elliott, "Folly," Miss Dene, "Gipsy," Miss Jean Moutat, "Court Lady," Miss Shirley Wilson, "Turkish Lady," Miss Nora Turner, "Black and Amber Piece," Mrs. D. Hamilton, "Beach Girl," Mrs. G. C. Moutat. Others were: D. Goodman, "Bell Boy"; W. P. Evans, "Hobo"; Miss Mary Purdy, "Chinaman"; Miss Cunningham, "Hawaiian"; Miss Kinsbury, "Sailor Girl"; L. Nichols, "Cowboy"; Elmer Beddis, "Bedonko Chief"; Miss Howard, "Shamrock"; C. S. Holmes, "Pierrot"; Mrs. Baker, "Pimpkin"; Miss Dene, "Crofton"; "Mexican," Mrs. Burgess, "Night"; Ted Borradaile and Miss Iris Vye, "Spanish Dancers"; R. Morris, "Clown," and others.

The Guild of Sunshine held a very successful sale of work and tea on Thursday afternoon at Ganges House, the home of Mrs. J. Moutat, which was kindly lent for the occasion. The stallholders were Mrs. E. Parsons, home cooking; Mrs. H. Purdy, new work; Mrs. Carl Seymour, made candy; Mrs. P. O. Stacey, miscellaneous. Those in charge of the afternoon tea were Mesdames N. M. Moutat, H. Noon, G. C. Moutat and W. Norton. Among those present during the sale and those present during the afternoon tea were: Mrs. W. Allan, Mrs. W. Bond, Mrs. C. S. Holmes, Mrs. T. McMurdo, Mrs. H. Johnson, Miss H. Dean, Mrs. E. Lumley, Mrs. Ross Young, Mrs. G. J. Moutat, Mrs. W. Palmer, Mrs. F. Wagg, Miss Nobbs, Mrs. J. S. Rogers and others.

At the recent annual meeting of the Salt Spring Island Players which was held at Mrs. B. Elliott's house, Ganges Harbor, with the president, P. C. Turner in the chair, the following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year: president, Major F. C. Turner; vice-president, R. O. King; field secretary, Mrs. Harvey, Mrs. A. J. Smith, Messrs. V. C. Morris, W. J. Evans and Colin King. The club intended putting on "What Happened to Jones" in December and "The Admirable Crichton" some time during the spring.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Scott were hosts at a tea in honor of their nieces, Mrs. Theriell and Mrs. A. G. Buchanan, who are spending some months on the island. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. E. A.
